MICKY ARISON

MANAGING GENERAL PARTNER

In 18 years as managing general partner of the Miami HEAT, Micky Arison has guided the franchise to unprecedented heights, including bringing South Florida three NBA championships.

As the leader of the most successful cruise operation in the world, the 64-year-old Arison and his family have always been involved with the team. Although his father, Ted, brought the NBA franchise to South Florida in 1988, it has only been since Micky took control in 1995 that the HEAT has evolved into one of the NBA's top organizations.

Arison, who was elected Chairman of the NBA Board of Governors in October 2005 and served a three-year term, brought to the HEAT the same standard of excellence that propelled Carnival Corporation & plc into a global vacation leader. One of Arison's first moves was to dramatically re-shape the franchise by hiring Pat Riley, one of the NBA's all-time winningest coaches, as Miami's President and that began a run of sustained excellence.

Together, Arison and Riley have built an organization that is considered one of the NBA's elite franchises. In addition to winning NBA championships in 2006, 2012 and 2013, with Arison and Riley at the helm, Miami has made the playoffs in 15 of the last 18 seasons, winning 10 division titles, four Eastern Conference championships and advancing to the Eastern Conference Finals six times. The 10 division titles the HEAT has captured over the last 18 years are the most in the Eastern Conference during that span and second most in the NBA.

Arison and Riley have been able to maintain a level of excellence in Miami by pulling off some of the largest acquisitions in the league. They initially built the foundation of success by acquiring franchise cornerstones Alonzo Mourning and Tim Hardaway. Next came Dwyane Wade and Shaquille O'Neal and a blockbuster 13-player trade, the largest in NBA history, in which they acquired James Posey, Jason Williams and All-Star Antoine Walker, all key cogs in Miami's first title run. The groundwork for Miami's 2012 championship was built in the summer of 2010 when Arison and Riley played key roles in re-signing Dwyane Wade to a multi-year contract and acquiring perennial NBA All-Stars LeBron James and Chris Bosh via sign-and-trades.

Previously Arison showed his commitment to the fans of South Florida when he worked successfully with Miami-Dade public officials to keep the HEAT in downtown Miami. The result of his diligence was an innovative public-private partnership that together built the county-owned state-of-the-art AmericanAirlines Arena that fans enjoy and the three-time NBA Champion HEAT calls home.

Arison has enjoyed an all-star business career as well, growing up in the cruise business and spending the better part of two decades learning it from the ground up before being named chairman and CEO of Carnival Corporation & plc in 1990. Earlier this year, the role of Carnival Corporation & plc chairman and CEO was split with Arison continuing to serve as chairman and longtime Carnival board member Arnold Donald being named CEO.

Arison followed his education with a two-year stint in the Carnival Cruise Lines sales department. He became reservations manager in 1974, and took over the post of vice president of passenger traffic in 1976, succeeding to the presidency in 1979. In 1990, he was appointed chairman of the company's board of directors.

In 1987, the company went public, generating $400 million for future expansion. As Carnival continued its growth through the traditional avenue of new ship construction, Arison also sought to expand the company's cruise operations by entering new market segments of the industry.

In 1989, Arison engineered the acquisition of the venerable Holland America Line, giving Carnival entry to the premium segment of the cruise industry. Arison also led the company's effort in the acquisition of ultra-luxury leader Seabourn, as well as Cunard, operator of the world's most famous ocean liners, and Costa Cruises, Europe's number one cruise company.

Arison also spearheaded Carnival Corporation's acquisition of P&O Princess Cruises, one of the most recognizable names in travel, in a deal valued at approximately $8.2 billion. The combined Carnival/Princess group, named Carnival Corporation & plc, is the largest cruise operator by far, with a diverse portfolio of brands catering to vacationers from all over the world. The Carnival/Princess entity is truly a global vacation leader with its stock trading on both the New York and London exchanges.

Under his direction, Carnival Corporation & plc has grown into the largest, most successful cruise operator in the world. Arison's keen attention to marketing and growth priorities has also increased revenues from approximately $600 million in 1988 to more than $15.4 billion in 2012.

Today, as chairman of Carnival Corporation & plc, he oversees diversified travel and tourism holdings, including cruise ships serving virtually every market segment – from contemporary to ultra-luxury – as well as leading tour operators and hotel chains in Alaska and the Yukon Territory.

The Arison family and Carnival Corporation & plc is devoted to South Florida and over the years has supported a variety of arts-related and community service organizations.

Organizations supported by the Arison family and Carnival include the New World Symphony, The National YoungArts Foundation, Miami Children's Museum, Jackson Memorial Foundation, Miami Project to Cure Paralysis, Project Medishare for Haiti, American Red Cross, Big Brothers/Big Sisters, United Way, Chapman Partnership and many others.

Arison's contributions to the cruise industry have been recognized by a wide range of international organizations. He has been named an "Officer of the French Legion of Honor" – the country's highest civilian honor – by French President Jacques Chirac, received a honorary doctorate in naval architecture from the University of Genoa, and has been awarded the Decoration of Commander, First Class, of the Order of the Lion of Finland by the President of the Republic of Finland. He has also been awarded the insignia of "Onorificenza al Merito della Repubblica Italiana" by the President of Italy, which confers that country's highest title on a civilian.

NICK ARISON

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Nick Arison, who has been associated with successful teams on every level of basketball and has been a part of championships with the Miami HEAT, Duke University and USA Basketball, enters his 11th year as a full-time member of the HEAT organization and his third as Chief Executive Officer. Arison oversees the day-to-day operations of the franchise and is a limited partner in the team. He also has served as the alternate governor since the 2005-06 season and is a member of the NBA's Competition Committee.

The promotion to his current position on July 22, 2011, was a natural progression for Nick, who has grown up with the HEAT. His grandfather, Ted Arison, was one of the team's original founders and his father, Micky Arison, bought the controlling share of the franchise and was named Managing General Partner on Feb. 13, 1995.

Arison has served the HEAT in a variety of positions over the years and has learned the business from the ground up. He initially started working for the HEAT organization as a team attendant for four seasons from 1995-99. He then served summer internships in the Arena Operations, Community Affairs and Sales and Marketing departments before becoming a full-time staff member on the business side of the organization in 2003 as an Account Manager, Premium Partnerships. In 2006, he was promoted to Director of Corporate and Premium Services where he oversaw the Account Management Team. Prior to the 2008-09 season, he was named Vice President, Basketball Operations where he worked directly with HEAT President Pat Riley and Senior Vice President, Basketball Operations/Assistant General Manager Andy Elisburg on overseeing the basketball side of the organization and played an active role in the recruiting and procurement of talent. During the summer of 2010 he was instrumental in the re-signing of Dwyane Wade and Udonis Haslem, as well as the acquisitions of LeBron James, Chris Bosh and Mike Miller. He also played a significant role in the recruitment of Shane Battier in 2011 and Ray Allen in 2012. All of these players were cornerstones in the Miami HEAT's Back-to-Back NBA Championship teams in 2012 and 2013. A rising star in the business, Arison was selected as one of SportsBusiness Journal's "Forty Under 40" in 2013, an award that honors the most promising young executives in sports business under the age of 40.

In addition to his responsibilities with the HEAT, Arison served as a member of the United States Men's Senior National Team support staff from 2004-08. He assisted with the day-to-day operations for USA Basketball's 2008 Olympic team that captured the gold medal in Beijing, China as well as the 2007 gold medal winning FIBA Americas Championship team, the bronze medal winning 2006 World Championship team and the bronze medal winning team at the 2004 Olympics.

Arison began his basketball administrative career while attending Duke University. He spent four seasons as team manager of the Blue Devils men's basketball team and was named the head team manager during his senior year. Over that four-year span, Arison became the only team manager in Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC) history to be a part of four straight ACC Championships and was a manager for Duke's 2001 NCAA National Championship team.

A native of Miami, Arison graduated from Duke with a degree in public policy and a certificate in marketing and management.

PAT RILEY

PRESIDENT

Beginning his 19th season in Miami, HEAT President and Hall of Fame inductee Pat Riley has a resume that is unquestionably one of the most impressive in all of sports. Few in any profession have achieved the levels of success that Riley has accomplished while serving various roles in nearly half a century of dedication to the game he loves. The list of accomplishments for the nine-time NBA champion is equally long and impressive.

When Riley first arrived in Miami in September of 1995 he spoke about his vision of a championship parade down beautiful Biscayne Boulevard. That vision has been fulfilled three times, as under his guidance the HEAT have become just one of 10 NBA franchises to win multiple championships, claiming the league's top prize in 2006, 2012 and again in 2013. For Riley, winning a championship was nothing new. He arrived in Miami with a championship pedigree having previously won NBA titles as a player, assistant coach and head coach. It's that record of success that led to him earning the highest praise that can be bestowed upon an individual in the NBA. On September 5, 2008, in his first year of consideration, Riley was enshrined with the class of 2008 into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

Riley has established a standard of excellence within the franchise, both on and off the court, that has continually allowed the team to reach unprecedented heights and has positioned it as one of the most respected and successful in the NBA. Never was that more evident than when Riley guided his group of "15 Strong" to the franchise's first NBA championship in Dallas on June 20, 2006. After the game, Riley commented that he had packed one suit, one shirt and one tie for the trip to Dallas. What he brought back to Miami was one championship, fulfilling that vision he spoke about when arriving in Miami in 1995. In 2012 and 2013, he watched his hand-picked successor Erik Spoelstra guide teams that he put together as HEAT President once again reach the top of the mountain and enjoy back-to-back championships in an arena built largely as a result of his success. It's that success and the sacrifices he made along the way that has earned the respect of his peers and led to him receiving the Chuck Daly Lifetime Achievement Award from the National Basketball Coaches Association during the 2012 NBA Finals.

For the past 18 seasons, Riley's influence can be found throughout the HEAT organization as he has transformed the team from its early years to one of the most successful and desired destinations throughout the league. His work off the court constantly re-shaping the roster has been crucial in the HEAT winning three championships on the court. Never was that more evident than the summer of 2010. After two seasons of positioning the HEAT to be a major player in the 2010 free agent pursuit, while still remaining competitive and earning a pair of postseason berths, Riley proved to be the architect of one of the most successful off-seasons in NBA history. His work the previous two seasons put Miami in position to be able to add several key pieces in the 2010 free agent market and he delivered a star-studded class. In addition to accomplishing his stated mission of re-signing Dwyane Wade to a long term contract, he also convinced perennial All-Stars Chris Bosh and LeBron James to combine forces and join the HEAT to help form the core of what should be a championship contender for years to come. The trio has paid immediate dividends helping lead the HEAT to the NBA Finals in each of their three seasons together. The star power Riley has assembled has also produced great results off the court as well, as Miami has led the NBA in road attendance and sold out every home game in each of their three seasons together. As a result of his efforts pulling off a major coup, Riley was named The Sporting News 2010-11 Executive of the Year and shared the NBA's Executive of the Year award.

For Riley the summer of 2010 was just one more example of him working his magic in the front office. Since his arrival in Miami, he has engineered some of the biggest trades in the NBA. Previously he had made deals to acquire All-Stars Alonzo Mourning, Tim Hardaway, Eddie Jones, Shaquille O'Neal and Shawn Marion as well as add talented players Brian Grant and Jamal Mashburn. Additionally, prior to the 2005-06 season, he made headlines as he helped engineer the largest trade in NBA history, a five-team, 13-player blockbuster, in which the HEAT obtained All-Star Antoine Walker from Boston along with Jason Williams and James Posey from Memphis, all key contributors in the HEAT's first NBA championship. He has also used the free agent market in the past to help build the HEAT into a championship team. Riley made a big splash in the summer of 2003 when he signed free agent Lamar Odom, who went on to enjoy his finest NBA season before becoming the centerpiece in the trade to acquire the then 11-time All-Star O'Neal. He has also used the free agent market to acquire solid veterans Mike Miller, Shane Battier, Ray Allen, Rashard Lewis and Chris Andersen to all be key parts of this championship franchise. Riley has also helped shape the HEAT through the years with the successful drafting of Dwyane Wade and Caron Butler and also scored with the signing of undrafted free agent Udonis Haslem, who has gone on to become the all-time rebound leader in franchise history.

Riley's keen eye to spot talent has not been limited to just the players. His two head coaching hires have proven to be extremely successful as well as he promoted former assistant coaches Stan Van Gundy and Erik Spoelstra, giving each their first NBA head coaching job. Both have rewarded that faith by becoming among the best coaches in the NBA. Each has guided teams to the NBA Finals during their head coaching careers and has won over 60 percent of their games. When Spoelstra led Miami to back-to-back NBA championships in 2012 and 2013 he became one of just 13 coaches in NBA history to win multiple championships and one of only eight to win consecutive championships. His 50 wins and .633 winning percentage are both tops in HEAT postseason history.

With all the big moves Riley has made to shape the HEAT, the most important trade he was involved with might very well have been the one that delivered him to Miami. Looking to change the face of an organization in its infancy and become a solid contender year after year, HEAT Managing General

PAT RILEY PRESIDENT

Partner Micky Arison agreed to send a first-round draft pick and $1 million dollars to the New York Knicks on September 1, 1995 for the rights to Pat Riley. One day later, Riley was named the team's fourth head coach and team president. From that point, the face of the organization changed. Riley brought with him star power, a proven track record, professionalism and results. Since he arrived in 1995, the HEAT has compiled an 826-602 (.578) record, the best record in the Eastern Conference over that 18-year span and tied for fourth best in the NBA. Miami has made 15 postseason appearances under his leadership and has captured 10 division titles, the most in the Eastern Conference over that span.

Riley's resume is filled with milestones during an NBA career that spans 45 years as a player, assistant coach, head coach, administrator and broadcaster and has produced nine NBA championships. He has compiled a 1,210-694 (.636) all-time record guiding the Los Angeles Lakers, New York Knicks and the Miami HEAT during a 24-year head coaching career that is one of the most impressive in all of sports. His 1,210 regular season victories place him fourth on the NBA's all-time list, his 1,904 games coached ranks seventh and his .636 winning percentage in the regular season places him eighth in league history. Riley averaged 50 wins per season in his coaching career. Additionally, his 171 postseason victories and 282 postseason games coached each rank second in NBA history and his .606 postseason winning percentage is eighth best all-time in the league annals. His five NBA championships as a head coach tie him with John Kundla for the third highest total in NBA history. As a result of his many accomplishments, in 1996-97 as the NBA celebrated its 50th Anniversary, Riley was named one of the Top 10 Coaches of All-Time by a panel of media who regularly cover the league. Simply put, Riley is a winner.

No matter the odds, "getting the job done" has never been a problem for a person who has seen winning from all angles. As a youthful role player for the 1971-72 Los Angeles Lakers, Riley earned the first of his nine NBA championship rings. He claimed another as an assistant under Lakers coach Paul Westhead in 1979-80. The New York native collected four more titles for the Lakers as the team's top man in 1982, 1985, 1987 and 1988. Eighteen years later, he guided the HEAT to their first NBA Championship, his fifth as a head coach, and then in 2012 and 2013 he claimed rings eight and nine as HEAT President. The 18-year span between championships as a head coach established an NBA record. As a head coach, his teams advanced to the NBA Finals nine times, the Conference Finals on 12 occasions and captured 18 divisional championships, nine conference championships and five NBA titles. He has been honored as the NBA Coach of the Year on three occasions, the only coach in NBA history to receive the award with three different teams. Riley has also captured NBA Coach of the Month honors 11 times. His 21 total postseason appearances as a head coach are tops in league history, two more than Hall of Fame coach Red Auerbach and his string of 19 consecutive postseason appearances as a head coach from 1982-2001 set a league record for consecutive postseason appearances. Riley has also served as a head coach in nine NBA All-Star games.

In his illustrious career, Riley has guided his teams to at least 50 wins in a season 17 times and has amassed seven 60-win seasons, achieving the milestone with each of the three franchises he guided. Both his 17 50-win seasons and seven 60-win seasons tie the most by a coach in NBA history. When he began the 2000-01 season with an Opening Night victory over Orlando on November 1, he became just the second coach in NBA history to reach 1,000 wins. Riley currently stands as the all-time leader in regular season wins and ranks second in postseason victories for the HEAT and ranks second in both categories for the Lakers.

During his first stint guiding the HEAT, Riley led Miami to 354 victories and four consecutive Atlantic Division titles over an eight-year period.

Riley, who stands as Miami's all-time leader in games coached at 849, returned to the bench on Dec. 12, 2005 after a two-year hiatus where he concentrated on building the team from the front office. Upon his return he successfully navigated the HEAT to the pinnacle of the basketball world in 2006 and added more luster to a legacy and resume that did not need further validation. Riley compiled a 454-395 record (.535) during his 11 seasons on the HEAT sidelines and guided Miami to eight playoff appearances and 34 postseason victories. Prior to his arrival the franchise had compiled a 205-369 (.357) mark, with one winning season, two playoff appearances and two postseason wins in its first seven years.

On the eve of his first season in Miami, Riley changed the look of the HEAT by designing a six-player trade that brought in Mourning, who became the HEAT's first All-Star. He sprang into action again on February 22, 1996, making three trades involving 10 players just hours before the trading deadline that cleared the way for future free agent signings and brought Hardaway to Miami. Hardaway became a two-time All-Star during his stint with Riley and in 1996-97 was named to the backcourt with Michael Jordan on the All-NBA First Team. Those moves created the foundation in which the HEAT has been built upon and helped send the message that Riley would do whatever it took to produce a winner in Miami.

And the team has been winning ever since. In addition to delivering three NBA championships to Miami, Riley's HEAT tenure has included many highlights. In 1996-97 he garnered a third NBA Coach of the Year honor with his third team, an unprecedented feat in league history, after leading Miami to a 61-21 (.744) record and the HEAT's first trip to the Eastern Conference Finals. On February 10, 1998, he became the winningest coach in HEAT history when Miami defeated Cleveland for HEAT win number 134. During the 1998-99 campaign he led Miami to the best record and the number one seed in the Eastern Conference for the first time. The 1999-00 season saw the HEAT capture its fourth consecutive Atlantic Division crown. That season also culminated a dream for the franchise as Riley ushered Miami into its beautiful new home, the AmericanAirlines Arena, a state-of-the-art downtown bayside arena. The following season, Riley turned in what many experts claim was one of the best coaching jobs of his amazing career. After re-working the roster in the summer of 2000 by acquiring three-time All-Star Eddie Jones and hard-working power forward Brian Grant to make a run at a possible championship, Riley had to guide the franchise through one of the biggest jolts in its history. On October 16, in the middle of the pre-season, Alonzo Mourning, the team's centerpiece, announced that due to a kidney disease he was expected to miss the entire season. Despite the devastating news, Riley guided the HEAT to a 50-32 record for a second place finish in the Atlantic Division and the third best record in the conference.

Before joining the HEAT, Riley spent four successful seasons as the head coach of the New York Knicks. Prior to Riley's arrival the Knicks had posted just four winning seasons in the previous 10 years (1981-91). During his four-year stint in New York, Riley guided the Knicks to four straight winning seasons, four consecutive playoff berths and compiled a 223-105 record. His .680 winning percentage is the best in Knicks history, easily outdistancing former assistant Jeff Van Gundy who ranks second (.590), and his 223 victories rank fourth on the club's all-time list. He recorded at least 50 wins in each of his four seasons in New York, the only time in Knicks history the team posted at least 50 wins in four consecutive years. The highlight of his career with the Knicks was leading them to the 1994 NBA Finals, New York's first trip to the Finals since the 1972-73 season. Riley's teams won three consecutive Atlantic Division titles in his first three years (1991-94) in New York, and his tireless dedication earned him his second NBA Coach of the Year honor in 1993.

Prior to leading the Knicks, Riley was head coach of the Lakers for nine years and guided the team to four NBA titles and three other NBA Finals appearances. After taking over for Paul Westhead 11 games into the 1981-82 season, he led the Lakers to the NBA Championship in his first season as a head coach in the league. Under Riley, the Lakers became the first NBA team to win 60 games in four consecutive seasons (1984-85 through 1987-88). He won the Pacific Division title in each of his nine years leading the Lakers and was honored as the 1990 NBA Coach of the Year. He compiled a 533-194 (.733) regular season record in his nine seasons in L.A. and won at least 50 games each year. Riley, who averaged 59 wins a season in L.A., brought "Showtime" to the Great Western Forum. Under Riley the Lakers recorded a 305-59 (.838) regular season mark at home. His teams also compiled a 102-47 (.685) postseason record. His 102 postseason victories rank second on the Lakers' all-time list as do his 533 regular season wins.

After leaving the Lakers, Riley served as co-host of "NBA Showtime" on NBC in 1990-91 before joining the Knicks in the fall of 1991. It was a return to the television booth for Riley who was Chick Hearn's partner on Lakers' broadcasts after his playing days ended (1977-79). He returned to the bench early in the 1979-80 campaign when Lakers' Head Coach Paul Westhead asked him to become an assistant.

As a player, Riley had an extensive nine-year career. He was the 1967 first-round pick (seventh overall) of the San Diego Rockets for their inaugural 1967-68 season. After three seasons, he joined the Lakers' in 1970-71 and played five years. He was a member of the 1971-72 Lakers team that won an NBA-record 33 consecutive games and the NBA Championship. Riley finished his playing career with the 1976 Western Conference Champion Phoenix Suns.

PAT RILEY PRESIDENT

Born in Schenectady, NY, Riley attended Linton High School where he became a two-sport star in basketball and football. He was a member of the Linton basketball team that beat historic Power Memorial High and center Lew Alcindor, who, as Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, would later lead Riley's Lakers to greatness. As a tribute to his accomplishments, Linton renamed its gym in Riley's honor in 1997 and inducted him into its hall of fame in 2000.

After turning down an offer to play football for Bear Bryant at Alabama, Riley decided instead to play basketball for Adolph Rupp at Kentucky from 1963-67. He was a collegiate star, earning team MVP honors three times and averaging 22 points per game on the Wildcats' famed "Rupp's Runts" squad that lost in the 1966 NCAA Finals to Texas Western. A gifted athlete, he was an 11th-round draft choice of the NFL's Dallas Cowboys in 1967 although he never played college football. His brother, Lee, played defensive back for the Detroit Lions, Philadelphia Eagles, and New York Giants of the NFL (1955-60) and for the New York Titans of the American Football League (1961-62). His father, Leon, was a major league catcher/outfielder with Philadelphia in 1944 and became a minor league manager in the Phillies' organization.

Along with his wife, Chris, Riley has been involved with numerous charity and community service projects throughout his career. They founded The Miami HEAT Family Outreach in 1997 which has raised over $16 million for the South Florida community and whose primary beneficiaries include Jackson Memorial Foundation's Guardian Angels which supports the Holtz Center for seriously ill children, SafeSpace which is a domestic violence shelter for women and their children, and the Miami Coalition for a Safe and Drug-free Community. They are also involved in the Pediatric AIDS Foundation's Kids for Kids organization which they started in 1992 in New York, and the YMCA in Los Angeles, New York, and Miami. For over 30 years the Rileys have been actively involved with Boys and Girls Clubs of America. As a result of his efforts, Riley has received many prestigious awards, including the Miami Project Sports Legend Award in 1992, Boys and Girls Clubs Miami Person of the Year Award in 1998, and was honored by the YMCA Miami in 1998. Riley was also instrumental in establishing the HEAT's Home Strong program in 2006 which supports and gives aid to military personnel.

Riley is not only one of professional basketball's winningest coaches, but his speeches before hundreds of corporations have earned him the title of "America's Greatest Motivational Speaker." He has been rated by SUCCESS magazine as "The best in his field." Riley has also completed an award winning 30-minute motivational video entitled "Teamwork" in which he applies his winning philosophies to business and life in general. In addition to being one of the most sought after motivational speakers in the country, Riley has authored two books, "Show Time" and "The Winner Within". Pat and his wife, Chris, have two children, James Patrick, and Elisabeth Marie.

ERIC WOOLWORTH

PRESIDENT, BUSINESS OPERATIONS

Beginning his 19th season with The HEAT Group and 13th at the helm of the organization as President, Business Operations, Eric Woolworth has made an indelible impression on both the Miami HEAT and AmericanAirlines Arena. His leadership has helped transform the organization and redefine its corporate identity into a customer service and sales-driven machine that is among the elite in the sports and entertainment industry. Under Woolworth's direction the HEAT has been consistently recognized as an NBA leader in customer service, fan entertainment, marketing, sales, and Arena operations, and has become a recognized leader in the South Florida business community. Working side by side with Pat Riley, Woolworth's efforts have made the HEAT a first-class organization away from the court as much as it is on it.

The team's innovative fan-friendly and flexible renewal program complements its very successful and often imitated in-Arena S.M.I.L.E. program aimed at exceeding a guest's expectations and creating an exciting experience at events. These initiatives have brought a high level of service and value to season ticket holders and guests, as well as a streamlined renewal and playoff payment process while introducing new and exciting benefits for loyal season ticket holders and other lucky fans.

Recognizing the power of database marketing, Woolworth turned the company's focus toward becoming an early adopter of this technology and quickly capitalized on it. In the past 13 years, the HEAT has compiled one of the richest direct marketing databases in the NBA and has become proficient in utilizing these powerful channels to deliver sales offers and news and continues to lead the NBA in terms of revenue derived from database marketing. The HEAT leverages these assets to support the marketing efforts of its ever-expanding corporate partner base.

Most recently, the HEAT has become an industry leader in building and exploiting a large and sustainable social media following. With a Facebook fan base of over 8.5 million and a twitter following of 1.7 million, the HEAT Social Media Department is a consistent leader in social media engagement and growth. In 2013, the department won the NBA's Social Media "Epic Award"—an honor determined solely by fan votes—which designated the March 18, 2013 matchup between the Celtics and the HEAT as their favorite game. In addition, the HEAT won Yahoo's 2013 "OMG Award" for the team's rendition of the Harlem Shake dance, which garnered over 30 million You Tube views in less than 72 hours.

Under Woolworth's guidance, The HEAT Group's Business Operations Division continues to garner accolades in a variety of disciplines. Success stories for the 2012-13 season include the Season Ticket Services Department once again recording the highest Season Ticket renewal rate in franchise history and one of the highest renewal rates in the NBA; the HEAT Retail Department earning the highest per cap rates in retail sales in the NBA; the HEAT Internet Services Department winning the coveted 2012-13 NBA Web Traffic Award for HEAT.com; and the unveiling of the 12th Miami HEAT Learn and Play Center.

Woolworth has been at the forefront of several major capital improvement projects to the AmericanAirlines Arena, which celebrated its 10-year anniversary on December 31, 2009, including the 3,400 square foot digital media façade, MiamiMediaMesh, one of the largest digital LED displays in the Southeast region of the United States; the multi-million dollar High Definition upgrade of all digital infrastructure at AmericanAirlines Arena; the fully customizable "experience" fans now enjoy as they enter the Arena through the newly renovated Bacardi Grand Entrance—an extensive re-branding project, which includes state-of-the-art digital signage and graphic enhancement tailored to the specific audience of any single event; and the 2012 opening of Hyde AmericanAirlines Arena, a posh and intimate venue offering guests an über-VIP restaurant and nightclub experience.

Woolworth's efforts have also firmly planted AmericanAirlines Arena on the map of elite venues, hosting such world-class acts as Madonna, Marc Anthony, Billy Joel, Eric Clapton, Paul McCartney, The Rolling Stones, U2, Luis Miguel, Justin Bieber, Hannah Montana/Miley Cyrus, Phish and many others that play before sold-out crowds. The Arena also secured the 2004 and 2005 MTV Video Music Awards, the first two times in the award show's history it was hosted outside of New York City or Los Angeles. Popular family shows that make annual stops at the Arena include classic favorites Disney On Ice, Wiggles, the Harlem Globetrotters and the RB&BB Circus.

The AmericanAirlines Arena is also a celebrated leader in the facilities industry due to Woolworth's leadership. In both 2012 and 2013, Pollstar named the Arena the #1 arena in Florida and among the top 10 in the United States. And in 2013, the Arena won the prestigious 2013 Facility of Merit award presented by the National Center for Spectator Sports Safety and Security for demonstrating an innovative approach to enhancing safety and security.

Woolworth's primary responsibility consists of directing and overseeing all non-basketball aspects of the organization from Marketing and Community Affairs to Sales and Service, Human Resources, Merchandising, Finance, Event and Arena Operations, and more. His efforts have created a professional cutting edge atmosphere for both the employees and the customers.

Woolworth steadily climbed the ranks of The HEAT Group after first joining the HEAT as General Counsel in 1995 and a successful legal career in Washington, D.C. His business acumen and key role in the development of the AmericanAirlines Arena led to his promotion to President, Business Operations in January of 2001. He had served as interim President from August of 2000 to January of 2001.

Woolworth is a cum laude graduate of both Georgetown University and Georgetown University Law Center. He lives with his wife, Jocelyn, their son, Jackson, and their daughter, Cassidy, in Coral Gables. They generously spend their time and resources to assist the community, donating time to several charitable organizations including serving on the Boards of Big Brothers Big Sisters and the Children's Craniofacial Association at Miami Children's Hospital.

ERIK SPOELSTRA

HEAD COACH

Erik Spoelstra enters his sixth season as head coach of the HEAT and his 19th as a member of the organization. Since being elevated to his current position on April 28, 2008, Spoelstra has rewarded the faith that HEAT President Pat Riley showed in him by garnering a 260-134 regular season record, a 50-29 postseason mark, five postseason appearances, three division titles, three conference championships and guiding the franchise to a pair of NBA championships.

In just five seasons at the helm, Spoelstra has already established his place in the HEAT record book. He holds the franchise postseason records for victories (50), winning percentage (.633), series won (11) and games coached (79). In regular season play he owns the highest winning percentage (.660) and ranks second in both victories (260) and games coached (394) for the HEAT.

Since replacing Riley on the HEAT bench five years ago, Spoelstra has seen the expectations for his team change dramatically from the time he was appointed head coach in 2008 until now. When he inherited the head coaching reins in 2008 he was given the task of improving a young team that had been ravaged by injuries the previous season and had won just 15 games. Two years later, after the summer of 2010 in which Miami re-signed Dwyane Wade and acquired All-Stars LeBron James and Chris Bosh, he found himself coaching a highly-talented, veteran group that was the most scrutinized team in the NBA. Throughout his tenure he has remained a steadying influence for his team and its paid huge dividends in return. Spoelstra and his team have proven they are up for the challenge as he has guided them to consecutive NBA Championships, three-straight Eastern Conference Championships and three consecutive trips to the NBA Finals. When the HEAT defeated Indiana in a grueling seven-game series in the 2013 Eastern Conference Finals they became the first Eastern Conference team to make three consecutive NBA Finals appearances since the Chicago Bulls accomplished the feat from 1996-98.

Spoelstra, who ranks third on the NBA's all-time postseason winning percentage list and tops among active head coaches, joined a very elite fraternity when he led the HEAT to a seven-game series win over the San Antonio Spurs in the 2013 NBA Finals. Upon capturing the 2013 NBA Championship he became one of just 13 head coaches in NBA history to have won multiple championships and only the eighth to win a championship in consecutive seasons.

During his five years leading the HEAT, no coach in the NBA has won more playoff games, playoff series or has posted a higher postseason winning percentage than Spoelstra. Under Spoelstra, the HEAT have won 11 of 14 postseason series (.786 winning percentage), including a franchise-record eight consecutive series. Spoelstra's teams have an 11-4 (.733) record when having an opponent on the brink of elimination and a 6-3 (.667) mark when they are on the brink of elimination.

After guiding Miami to its second NBA crown in 2012, Spoelstra and his team knew they would get everyone's best shot on a daily basis during the 2012-13 season and what the HEAT accomplished under the fifth-year head coach was one of the greatest seasons in NBA history. It was a season filled with highlights from participating in a preseason tour in China to ending with a championship celebration on the floor of the AmericanAirlines Arena on June 20.

Spoelstra guided the HEAT to a franchise-record 66-win regular season which included a 27-game winning streak from Feb. 3-Mar. 25, the second longest streak in NBA history. In large part due to the winning streak, the HEAT finished the second half of the 2012-13 season with a 38-3 record and lost just one game each in the months of February, March and April. The 17-1 record in March set a franchise record for victories in any month. As a result of the streak, Spoelstra was named the NBA Eastern Conference Coach of the Month in both February and March becoming the first HEAT coach to receive the honors in consecutive months. He has now captured the monthly honors five times tying him with Pat Riley for most in franchise history. The record-setting season also helped Spoelstra earn the honor of coaching the Eastern Conference at the 2013 NBA All-Star Game, a first in his young career. The final victory in the 27-game win streak, at Orlando on Mar. 25, marked the 250th regular season victory in Spoelstra's career. He needed just 382 games to reach that milestone, getting there quicker than any coach in franchise history.

One of the keys to that success has been Miami's dominance at the AmericanAirlines Arena under Spoelstra. He led Miami to a 37-4 home record during the 2012-13 season establishing club single-season records in both home victories and home winning percentage. In his five seasons guiding the HEAT, Spoelstra's regular season record at the AmericanAirlines Arena is a sterling 147-50 (.746) and his postseason record at home is an even better 33-9 (.786). The HEAT have also proven to be able to win away from home as the 2012-13 season marked the fourth straight season the HEAT posted a winning record on the road, a first in franchise history. Additionally, Miami has won at least one postseason road game in each of the past 12 series they've participated in to establish a club record.

The 2012 championship culminated a compressed 2011-12 season in which Miami went 46-20 and captured its second consecutive Southeast Division title. The regular season was highlighted by a nine-game win streak (Feb. 10-Mar. 1) with each victory a double-digit win. During that streak the HEAT became the first team to win road games on three consecutive nights (Feb. 12-14) since December of 1979 and the first to win each of those contests by double-digits since the 1970-71 season. That streak keyed an 11-2 record in February for Miami which saw Spoelstra earn Coach of the Month honors for the third time in his career.

HEAD COACH

ERIK SPOELSTRA

Miami's success during the 2011-12 campaign was driven by its defense. The HEAT once again ranked among the top defensive teams in the NBA, finishing third in steals per game, fourth in scoring defense, fourth in scoring margin and fifth in field goal percentage defense, the third straight year Miami ranked in the top five in field goal percentage defense. The HEAT also remained dominant at home, posting a 28-5 record, which included a 17-game home winning streak, the second longest in franchise history. The 28 home victories tied for the most in the league and the .848 home winning percentage is the third best single-season mark in franchise history.

Spoelstra led Miami to a 58-24 regular season record, a Southeast Division title and an Eastern Conference championship in 2010-11. The 58 wins mark the fourth best total in franchise history and Miami's 28 road wins tied for the most in the NBA in 2010-11 and rank third in HEAT history. Spoelstra earned NBA Eastern Conference Coach of the Month honors in December after guiding the HEAT to a 15-1 record, including a perfect 10-0 mark on the road. The 10 road victories in December set a franchise record for any month and the HEAT established an NBA record for most consecutive road wins in a calendar month. Defense was once again the stalwart of the HEAT's success as Miami led the NBA in point differential, finished second in defensive field goal percentage and sixth in scoring defense.

After an impressive rookie campaign, Spoelstra guided Miami to a 47-35 record in 2009-10. Under his leadership the HEAT closed the season by winning 18 of its final 22 games, including a 12-3 record in March which earned him NBA Eastern Conference Coach of the Month honors. The 2009-10 season was one of its best defensive seasons for Miami as the HEAT allowed the fewest field goals in the NBA and finished second in both points allowed and defensive field goal percentage.

During his rookie season, Spoelstra led Miami to its greatest single-season improvement. He inherited a 15-win team and directed it to a 28-win improvement, marking the greatest improvement by a rookie head coach in NBA history, bettering the previous record of a 20-win improvement by Chicago's Ed Badger during the 1976-77 season. It also marked the seventh-best single-season improvement in NBA history by any coach. As a result of a 43-win season, the most by a head coach in his first year guiding the HEAT, Spoelstra led Miami to the 2009 NBA Playoffs. The 2009 postseason appearance made Miami just the second team in NBA history to win 15-or-fewer games one year and make the postseason the next, joining the 1968-69 San Diego Rockets.

ERIK SPOELSTRA HEAD COACH

Before taking over the reigns as the sixth head coach in HEAT history, Spoelstra had served Miami in a number of roles in his first 13 years. He was originally hired as video coordinator and over the years was promoted to assistant coach/video coordinator, assistant coach/advance scout and assistant coach/director of scouting before ascending to head coach. He made a name for himself around the league with his game preparation and superb attention to detail. In his seven seasons as the HEAT's assistant coach/director of scouting, he had the primary role of developing game plans for upcoming opponents. To that end, he coordinated the video staff and advance scouts while overseeing the development of scouting reports and videos.

Spoelstra has earned the respect of players throughout the league with a strong reputation as a teacher over the years by heading the HEAT's Individual Player Development Program. As an assistant coach, where he also served for three seasons (2005-07) as the head coach of the HEAT's summer league team, and as the HEAT's head man now, he has worked tirelessly with many of Miami's young players in areas of fundamentals, skill development and shooting. This consistent emphasis of fundamentals contributed to the HEAT setting a franchise-record in 2008-09 for fewest turnovers in a season, committing 96 fewer turnovers than the previous franchise record, and then responding the following season with the second fewest turnovers in a season.

Additionally, Spoelstra helped design and integrate a proprietary statistical database and scouting software for the HEAT. Under Spoelstra, the HEAT continues to embrace the use of technology and continues to use the state-of-the-art statistical software to evaluate team productivity, individual player productivity and trends for both the HEAT and the team's opponents. That use of technology as a teaching tool also included putting the team's video playbook on iPads for his players.

In 1992, he graduated from the University of Portland with a degree in communications. While attending Portland, Spoelstra was the starting point guard for four years and was named the West Coast Conference Freshman of the Year in 1989. Upon graduating he spent two years as a player/coach for Tus Herten, a team in the professional sports league of Germany.

A team member of the NBA FIT initiative, Spoelstra takes pride in encouraging and educating children on the physical, mental and emotional benefits of healthy living, as well as motivating and inspiring their families to live healthier lives through a variety of events and activities. Additionally, he created "Spo's Shooters", in 2008 in conjunction with the Miami HEAT Community Education Ticket Program. This program reaches out to South Florida's less fortunate student-athletes and gives them the opportunity to enjoy HEAT games and meet their favorite HEAT players and role models.

In July, 2009, Spoelstra embarked on what would be the first of four trips back to his native Philippines. In each of these trips, he has hosted basketball and coaches clinics, promoted the importance of education, healthy living and wellness, while being able to reach close to 10,000 underprivileged youth through these efforts. In 2011, the nine-day program in Manila was the largest NBA FIT event ever hosted in Southeast Asia under the NBA Cares umbrella. During the summer of 2012, Spoelstra expanded this program to include the country of Singapore.

Raised in Portland, OR, Spoelstra, who was inducted into the Jesuit High School Athletic Hall of Fame in September 2009, is the first Asian/Filipino-American head coach in any of the major North American sports leagues.

Spoelstra is the son of Jon Spoelstra, a long-time NBA executive who has guided the Portland Trail Blazers, Denver Nuggets, Buffalo Braves and New Jersey Nets. His grandfather, Watson, was a Detroit Tigers beat writer for many years.

BOB MCADOO

ASSISTANT COACH

Bob McAdoo enters his 19th season as an assistant coach with the Miami HEAT. As a former NBA MVP, McAdoo works primarily with the HEAT big men and has been instrumental in developing their overall skills. He also works on a constant basis with all players to improve their shooting skills, while imparting the wisdom and knowledge derived from a 14-year NBA playing career. McAdoo is in charge of charting the team's offensive efficiency and focusing on the strengths and weaknesses of opponent's big men. He also served as the head coach of the HEAT's Summer League team in 2004.

McAdoo, generally considered the greatest shooting big man in NBA history, enjoyed a storied 14-year playing career in the NBA, which included three consecutive scoring titles from 1973-74 through 1975-76 – making him one of only seven NBA players to accomplish the feat. He appeared in five consecutive All-Star games, where he averaged 17.6 points and 6.0 rebounds, as well as being named the NBA MVP in 1975. McAdoo received the game's greatest honor when he was elected into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 2000.

Over his career, "Doo" averaged 22.1 points and 9.4 rebounds while connecting on 50.3 percent of his field goal attempts, and has worked with many of the best in the business. In 1982, he was a member of Pat Riley's first championship team with the Los Angeles Lakers. Former HEAT broadcaster and fellow Hall of Famer Dr. Jack Ramsay was McAdoo's first coach in Buffalo in 1972. His career also included tours with New York, New Jersey, Boston and Philadelphia. After finishing in 1986 with the 76ers, McAdoo played professionally in Italy (1986-92) where his teams went on to win the Italian Championship three times and the European Championship twice. Individually, he captured MVP honors in both the Italian League and European Championships. Additionally, he appeared in the first McDonald's Open in 1987, averaging 42 points in losing causes to the Milwaukee Bucks and Russian National team. In May of 2008 he was named as one of the 50 most influential personalities in European Club Basketball over the last half century. McAdoo was one of just 35 players to receive that honor.

McAdoo's success began early in his career, as he earned the 1972-73 NBA Rookie of the Year award after averaging 18.0 points and 9.1 rebounds for the Buffalo Braves. In each of the next three seasons he averaged at least 30 points and 12 rebounds. McAdoo was an All-American at every level of play, starting in high school, and then at Vincennes JC, where he was a member of the JUCO national championship team in 1970. He also received All-America honors while playing at the University of North Carolina, where he helped guide the Tar Heels to a Final Four appearance. McAdoo also played for the United States in the 1971 Pan American Games.

In the summer of 2010 he took part in the Basketball without Borders program in Singapore which uses sport to create a positive social change in areas of education, health and wellness. He also participated in the Basketball without Borders program in Beijing during the summer of 2009 and the NBA Legends Tour to South Africa in 1993, a goodwill mission with NBA Commissioner David Stern and other players to promote the NBA. Besides his accomplishments on the court, McAdoo was the basketball technical advisor for the 1993 motion picture The Air Up There, starring Kevin Bacon. For his musical exploits on the alto saxophone, McAdoo was selected as a member of the North Carolina All-State High School band. Rounding out his high school career, he was named to the All-State and All-American teams in basketball while also becoming the North Carolina High School high jump champion as a senior.

McAdoo and his wife, Patrizia, reside in Boca Raton with their son Ryan. Their daughter, Rasheeda, is in her first year at Georgia Tech on a tennis scholarship. McAdoo's eldest son Robert III and daughter Rita live in New York, while their other sons, Ross and Russell, live in Miami.

RON ROTHSTEIN

ASSISTANT COACH

With a resume highlighted by over 40 years in the game, Ron Rothstein brings a wealth of experience and knowledge as he continues in his third stint with the HEAT organization. The 2013-14 season marks Rothstein's 34th season of involvement in professional basketball. Beginning as a regional scout in 1979, Rothstein has served as a head coach twice in the NBA, an assistant coach with five different franchises, as a regional scout with three teams and also spent one season as an NBA television analyst. During his 25 years on an NBA bench, his teams have made 17 postseason appearances, highlighted by three NBA championships, eight Eastern Conference Finals appearances, five Eastern Conference championships, five NBA Finals appearances and eight divisional championships. On June 2, 2011, in Game 2 of the NBA Finals, he reached a personal milestone when he coached in his 2,000th NBA career game.

The 2013-14 season marks Rothstein's 10th as an assistant coach with Miami, but his ties to the HEAT organization are deep-rooted. He became the club's first head coach on July 12, 1988 and guided the HEAT through its start-up and first three seasons, increasing the team's victory total each year. He also served as general manager and head coach of the WNBA's Miami SOL during its three-year history. He then returned to the HEAT following one season as an assistant coach for the Indiana Pacers. Additionally, he stepped in as acting head coach during the 2005-06, 2006-07 and 2007-08 seasons while Pat Riley underwent and recovered from hip replacement surgery and when Riley, in his role of team President, scouted collegiate tournaments.

After his tenure as the HEAT's first head coach, Rothstein spent two seasons with the Detroit Pistons, first as color commentator for radio and television broadcasts and a Western Conference scout, then as the club's head coach for the 1992-93 season. In 1993, Rothstein became an assistant coach with the Cleveland Cavaliers under Mike Fratello, where he spent six seasons before making his return to South Florida to guide the SOL.

Rothstein began his NBA career in 1979 as the Northeastern regional scout for the Atlanta Hawks. In 1982, he moved to a similar position with the New York Knicks before becoming an assistant coach with the Hawks in 1983. After spending three seasons on the Hawks bench, Rothstein joined the Detroit coaching staff as an assistant in the summer of 1986 where he was credited with establishing the defensive mindset and principals that helped the Pistons reach the Eastern Conference Finals in 1987 and the NBA Finals in 1988.

Prior to joining the pro ranks, Rothstein enjoyed a successful coaching career at the college and high school level. He served as an assistant coach at Upsala College in New Jersey from 1974-75 and was selected the Westchester County Coach of the Year in 1979 while at Eastchester High School in New York.

Rothstein was a three-year starter on the University of Rhode Island basketball team and was captain of the 1963-64 squad that finished 19-7 and tied Connecticut for the conference championship. After graduating from URI in 1964, Rothstein earned a master's degree from Hunter College in New York. He was inducted into the University of Rhode Island Athletic Hall of Fame in 1989 and in 2010 he received the Ram Legend award from URI. Additionally, he was inducted into the Miami Sports Hall of Champions in 2005 and the Westchester County (NY) Sports Hall of Fame in 2010.

Rothstein and his wife of 47 years, Olivia, reside in Miami and have two children. Their son David, lives in Miami with his wife, Patty, and their children, Aidan and Ava. Their daughter, Dana, also lives in Miami with her husband, Greg Brenner, and their children, Lucas and Hailey.

DAVID FIZDALE

ASSISTANT COACH/DIRECTOR OF PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

David Fizdale begins his sixth season as an assistant coach for the HEAT after previously serving five seasons as an NBA assistant coach with the Golden State Warriors and Atlanta Hawks. He began his professional career assisting in the HEAT's video room during the 1997-98 season. Among his current responsibilities, Fizdale will be assisting in the areas of player development, scouting, game preparation and other duties assigned by Head Coach Erik Spoelstra. In addition to directing players through individual workout sessions, Fizdale has served as Miami's head coach in the 2010 and 2012 NBA Summer Leagues.

Fizdale returned to Miami prior to the 2008-09 season after spending four seasons (2004-08) as an assistant coach with the Atlanta Hawks where he played an instrumental role in the development of their young players. He helped the Hawks increase their win total in each of his final three seasons and during the 2007-08 season, they earned the franchise's first postseason appearance since 1999. He began his NBA coaching career as an assistant coach with the Golden State Warriors for one season (2003-04).

Directly before joining the Warriors, Fizdale spent five seasons coaching in the college ranks. After concluding his collegiate playing career and spending one year as the HEAT's video intern in 1997-98, he began his coaching career with a four-year stint (1998-2002) as an assistant coach at his alma mater, the University of San Diego. During his final year with the Toreros he was the top assistant for coach Brad Holland. While at USD, he was in charge of scheduling, served as the recruiting coordinator and worked in player development and on-court coaching. After four years at San Diego, he spent one season (2002-03) as an assistant coach at Fresno State University where his responsibilities included player development and serving as the school's recruiting coordinator.

A three-year starter at point guard while playing at the University of San Diego, Fizdale was selected to the All-West Coast Conference team after his senior season in 1996.

Fizdale, a Los Angeles native, earned a bachelor's degree in communications and a minor in sociology from San Diego in 1996. He is single and currently lives in Miami and his son, Kyle Jackson, resides in Los Angeles.

DAN CRAIG

ASSISTANT COACH/PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Dan Craig begins his 11th year with the HEAT and his first as Assistant Coach/Player Development, after serving last season as Assistant Coach/Video Coordinator. In his current position, he spends countless hours on the court working with individual players in developing their game.

Craig, who served as the head coach of Miami's 2013 Summer League team which competed in both the Orlando and Las Vegas Summer Leagues, originally joined the HEAT as an intern in the video department in 2003 and has continuously worked his way up the organization. He was named Assistant Video Coordinator in 2004 and two years later was promoted to Video Coordinator, a role he served for five seasons before being elevated to Video Coordinator/Player Development Coach prior to the 2011-12 season.

Prior to joining the HEAT, Craig had a brief stint as a graduate assistant at Bloomsburg University. Throughout the summer months of 2000-04, Craig served as a basketball camp counselor for the Five-Star Basketball Camp, the Boston Celtics Basketball Camp, the Providence College Team Camp, the Merrimack College Basketball Camp, Plymouth State College Basketball Camp, the Raising Expectations Basketball Camp and also directed the Chelmsford Basketball Camp.

Craig is a graduate of Plymouth State University, where he graduated with a degree in marketing. He also played basketball for Plymouth State from 1999-2003 and was named co-captain during his junior and senior seasons. Craig and his wife, Jackie, reside in Coconut Grove.

JUWAN HOWARD

ASSISTANT COACH/PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

After a 19-year playing career, that included a pair of NBA championships and an All-Star appearance, Juwan Howard enters his first season as Assistant Coach/Player Development with the Miami HEAT. His primary responsibilities will be assisting in the area of player development. For Howard, his new position is a natural progression after the savvy veteran helped serve as a mentor both on and off the court for the HEAT the past three seasons and commanded respect throughout the organization.

Howard, who was a member of the HEAT's 2012 and 2013 NBA championship teams, appeared in 1,208 regular season games and 49 postseason contests during his stellar career which included an All-Star appearance with Washington during the 1995-96 season. He averaged 13.4 points, 6.1 rebounds, 2.2 assists and 30.3 minutes and made 900 career starts before concluding his playing career as a member of the HEAT in 2013. In addition to his All-Star appearance, Howard earned All-NBA Third Team honors once (1995-96) and was named to the All-Rookie Second Team during the 1994-95 campaign. The Chicago native also was named the Rookie of the Month for February 1995, was named Player of the Month for April 1996 and received the NBA's Community Assist Award for April 2010.

Howard played three seasons at the University of Michigan before becoming a first-round selection (fifth overall) by the Washington Bullets. He helped lead Michigan to the NCAA Tournament Championship game in both 1992 and 1993. An integral member of the famed "Fab Five", Howard became one of only five players in school history to score at least 1,500 points and grab at least 700 rebounds.

Howard and his wife, Jenine, reside in Miami and have four sons (Juwan Jr., Jace, Jett and Joshua) and two daughters (Sky and Starr).

JAY SABOL

ATHLETIC TRAINER

Jay Sabol begins his sixth season as Athletic Trainer for the HEAT. He has spent the last 23 seasons with Miami, including 13 as Assistant Athletic Trainer. In his current capacity, he oversees the training staff to keep the HEAT healthy during the regular season, postseason and off-season. Sabol has previously served as the team's equipment manager and assistant strength and conditioning coach, and served as a team attendant for his first five years with the organization.

Sabol was born and raised in Miami and graduated from Florida International University in 1992 with a master's degree in exercise physiology. As Assistant Athletic Trainer from 1992-95, Sabol covered basketball and soccer for FIU before joining the HEAT full-time in 1995. He is certified by the National Athletic Trainers Association, National Strength and Conditioning Association, National Academy of Sports Medicine and licensed by the State of Florida Department of Health.

Sabol and his wife, Michelle, enjoy fishing and boating in their free time.

BILL FORAN

ASSISTANT COACH/STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

Bill Foran has been the HEAT's strength and conditioning coach since its inception as he begins his 26th season with the organization and his 16th in the position of Assistant Coach/Strength & Conditioning. He is charged with improving the proper health, strength and overall conditioning of the HEAT players. To achieve these goals, Foran supervises a combination of strength training, plyometrics, conditioning, stretching and nutrition to ensure the players' maximum results on the court.

Foran originally joined the HEAT as a strength and conditioning consultant during the 1988-89 season before becoming a full-time staff member as the team's strength and conditioning coach. Prior to coming to the HEAT, Foran spent four years as the head strength and conditioning coach for the University of Miami. There, Foran helped keep UM's football players in shape for the championship years of 1987 and 1989. Prior to his tenure at UM, he spent four years in a similar capacity at Washington State University.

A graduate of Central Michigan University, he earned a dual degree in physical education and health education in 1977 and his master's degree in exercise physiology from Michigan State University in 1981. Foran is the former president and co-founder of the National Basketball Conditioning Coaches Association (NBCCA) and a published author. He is the main author, along with nine other NBA strength and conditioning coaches, of three published books titled "Condition the NBA Way", "NBA Power Conditioning" and "Complete Conditioning for Basketball". Foran was also the sole editor of "High Performance Sports Conditioning."

Additionally, Foran was named as the 2009 Co-NBA Strength Coach of the Year, sharing the title with Dwight Daub of the Oklahoma City Thunder. The award, in its inaugural year, was voted on by the strength and conditioning coaches of the NBA.

Foran and his wife, Karen, reside in Pembroke Pines and their children, Eric and Kaylee are both graduates of the University of Florida.

ANDY ELISBURG

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, BASKETBALL OPERATIONS/GENERAL MANAGER

Elisburg begins his first season as Senior Vice President, Basketball Operations/General Manager where he continues to assist CEO Nick Arison and President Pat Riley in the management of all aspects of the HEAT's basketball organization including salary cap administration, talent acquisition, league compliance and the day-to-day business of basketball operations.

He is a HEAT original, joining the franchise in its inaugural 1988 season. For the past 18 years, Elisburg has been working in basketball operations, including the previous five as Senior Vice President, Basketball Operations/Assistant General Manager, and has played an integral role in salary cap planning and basketball operations management, while overseeing the day-to-day operations at AmericanAirlines Arena.

With the challenges and the complexities in dealing with the league salary cap and luxury tax, Elisburg's knowledge and experience continues to be called upon to build on the team's unprecedented success. The results of that success include three NBA Championships, four Eastern Conference Championships, 15 postseason berths in the last 18 years (including a franchise-record six consecutive playoff appearances from 1996-2001), 10 Division Championships and tied for the fourth most wins (826) in the NBA (the most in the Eastern Conference) from 1995-2013.

During the off-season, Elisburg assists Riley in maneuvering through the framework of the salary cap and the luxury tax to transform the roster, ensuring the HEAT maintains its status as one of the league's top teams. In one of the most anticipated off-seasons in NBA history, he played an integral role in the HEAT's successful summer of 2010. His knowledge and expertise of the salary cap proved invaluable as he helped the HEAT acquire perennial All-Stars LeBron James and Chris Bosh, as well as round out the roster with several key veteran free agent signings to bolster the team's depth.

Elisburg began the team's inaugural campaign as an intern in the public relations department before becoming a public relations assistant at the end of the season. He has served in many different capacities, including Assistant Director of Public Relations; Director of Team Services and Information; Director of Team Operations; Vice President, Basketball Operations, Senior Vice President, Basketball Operations and Senior Vice President, Basketball Operations/Assistant General Manager.

A native of Potomac, MD, Elisburg served an internship with the Washington Bullets in the summer of 1988 before coming to the HEAT. He holds a degree in sports administration from St. Thomas University and was honored by his alma mater in June of 2004 with their first Leader for Life Award which goes to recognize an alumna/alumnas that has made a significant contribution to their chosen profession. Elisburg is single and lives in Miami.

TIM DONOVAN

VICE PRESIDENT, SPORTS MEDIA RELATIONS

Entering his 14th year as Vice President, Sports Media Relations, Tim Donovan has seen his responsibilities expand each year and is charged with overseeing all aspects of the HEAT's Sports Media Relations efforts. He also works closely with the marketing, social media, broadcasting and community affairs departments to help the organization create initiatives that maximize the team's position as one of the most fan-friendly in the South Florida community. In addition, Donovan will continue to travel to all games with the HEAT as the primary media liaison as well as coordinating all media interviews for the massive amounts of media requests made each year.

Donovan originally joined the HEAT as Assistant Director of Public Relations in 1995 after spending more than seven years with the New York Knicks. In January of 1997 he was elevated to Director of Sports Media Relations, a position he held for three and a half years before being promoted to his current position.

Donovan got his start in sports media relations in 1987, as an intern with the Knicks. He received a full-time position during New York's 1989 postseason and was named Public Relations Assistant in October of that year. By May of 1991, Donovan was Manager of Media Relations, serving as the chief liaison between the team and the New York area media.

A graduate of Rutgers University, Donovan lettered for four years on the Scarlet Knights' lacrosse team and helped lead the team to a number six national ranking as a senior.

CHET KAMMERER

VICE PRESIDENT, PLAYER PERSONNEL

After garnering more than 30 years of experience as a coach at many levels and developing an incredible eye for talent, Chet Kammerer begins his 17th year with the HEAT and his 10th in the role of Vice President, Player Personnel. Kammerer excelled in a number of roles for the HEAT before being promoted to his current position in September of 2004. After joining the organization as a scout in 1997, he has been promoted to Director of Scouting prior to the 1998-99 season, appointed Director of College Scouting before the 1999-00 season and then spent four seasons (2000-04) as the team's Director of Player Personnel.

Prior to joining the HEAT, Kammerer was an assistant coach for the Los Angeles Lakers from 1992-94. Following his time with the Lakers, he served as head coach of the Division I Professional Basketball Team of Braunschweig, Germany. Kammerer also served as a head coach for 27 years on the collegiate level and compiled a remarkable 542-256 (.679) overall record. He coached for 10 years at Grace (Ind.) College and then for 17 seasons at Westmont College where his teams compiled a sterling 359-156 record (.697). In his honor, Westmont College dedicated the newly renovated court at Murchison Gym as 'Kammerer Court' in a ceremony on December 13, 2008. On March 13, 2000, Kammerer was inducted into the NAIA Hall of Fame for his coaching achievements at the collegiate level.

Kammerer lives in Redondo Beach, CA. He and his wife, Sherill, have three grown children, Chad (the HEAT's current Director of NBA Scouting/Advance Scout), Shanda and Shariss and eight grandchildren, Maverick, Mason, Charlise, Cord, Ryder, Stetson, Natasha and Chase.

ALONZO MOURNING

VICE PRESIDENT, PLAYER PROGRAMS

Alonzo Mourning enters his fifth season as Vice President, Player Programs. In his role, Mourning is responsible to ensure the personal and professional development of HEAT players, while providing direct support and one-on-one mentoring. In addition, he represents the HEAT in various community and business endeavors.

After an NBA playing career that spanned 15 seasons and saw him capture an NBA championship with the HEAT in 2006, seven All-Star berths and twice being named the NBA Defensive Player of the Year, Mourning now serves the HEAT organization in his current role. Mourning, who had his number 33 retired by the HEAT in a ceremony on March 30, 2009, is Miami's all-time leader in offensive rebounds (1,505) and blocked shots (1,625). Additionally, he ranks second in points scored (9,459), field goal percentage (.537), free throws made (2,558) and attempted (3,896), defensive (3,302) and total (4,807) rebounds, double-doubles (205) and double-figure scoring efforts (442) and third in minutes played (17,700), starts (458), field goals made (3,445) and attempted (6,415) and games played (593). Mourning is also Miami's all-time postseason leader in blocked shots (171) while ranking third in points (989), field goals made (346), free throws made (294) and attempted (483), games played (82) and offensive rebounds (137) and is tied for third in double-figure scoring efforts (46).

For his career, Mourning, who also captured a gold medal with the United States Senior National team at the 2000 Olympics, appeared in 838 games with the HEAT, Charlotte Hornets and New Jersey Nets and averaged 17.1 points, 8.5 rebounds, 2.81 blocked shots, 1.1 assists and 31.0 minutes while shooting 52.7 percent from the floor. He finished his professional career with 14,311 points, 7,137 rebounds and 2,356 blocks (11th all-time in NBA history).

A perennial All-Star on the court, Mourning also works tirelessly for the children of South Florida through his charity, Mourning Family Foundation, to educate and create the opportunity for youth to excel. He and his wife, Tracy, have three children, Alonzo III ("Trey"), Myka Sydney and Alijah Harden.

KEITH ASKINS

DIRECTOR OF COLLEGE & PRO SCOUTING

Keith Askins begins his 24th year as a member of the HEAT organization and his first in the role as Director of College & Pro Scouting. In his new role he will work with Vice President, Player Personnel Chet Kammerer and Assistant General Manager Adam Simon overseeing all aspects of the HEAT's scouting department.

After a productive nine-year playing career, one spent entirely with Miami, Askins joined the HEAT coaching staff under Pat Riley as a volunteer assistant halfway through the 1999-00 season. The following season he was promoted to full-time status and served as an Assistant Coach/Advance Scout for the HEAT for two seasons (2000-02) before moving to the bench full-time beginning with the 2002-03 season. During his 14 years on the HEAT coaching staff, Askins worked extensively with the HEAT's forwards and his primary duties included the development of Miami's players both during the season and in the off-season.

Askins still ranks among Miami's all-time leaders in games played (fourth), three-point field goals made (ninth), three-point field goals attempted (ninth), offensive rebounds (11th), total rebounds (14th), blocked shots (14th), steals (14th), defensive rebounds (15th) and minutes (16th). He also owns the 14th best single-season three-point field goal percentage mark in franchise history, connecting on a career-high 41.8 percent of his attempts during the 1995-96 campaign. Known for his aggressive play and long range shooting, Askins served as a captain for the HEAT for four consecutive seasons from 1995-99 and captured the team's Leadership Award in both the 1994-95 and 1995-96 seasons.

Askins is also a former participant in the HEAT's TeamUp program, which prompted kids to become involved in community service, and was one of the team's most active community spokespersons during his career. In his free time, he enjoys golf, cigars, dominoes, backcountry fishing and growing orchids.

A graduate of the University of Alabama, Askins and his wife, Paulina, have twin boys, Franco and Vicente, and reside in Miami Lakes.

CHAD KAMMERER

DIRECTOR OF NBA SCOUTING/ADVANCE SCOUT

Chad Kammerer begins his 13th year with the Miami HEAT organization and his first as Director of NBA Scouting/Advance Scout. Among the responsibilities in his newly expanded role will be providing scouting reports and player evaluations to assist the HEAT coaching staff in their game preparations.

Prior to being promoted to his current role in September 2013, he had spent five seasons as an assistant coach on Erik Spolestra's staff from 2008-13, assisting in the areas of game planning, scouting and player development. He has also served as an assistant coach for the HEAT's summer league team for six years.

Kammerer originally joined the organization on a part-time basis during the 2001-02 season and then spent six years as the HEAT's full-time advance scout, from 2002-08 before moving to the bench.

Prior to joining the HEAT, Kammerer served as an assistant coach at Valparaiso University, the University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA), Concordia University (CA) and the University of Mississippi.

Kammerer, the son of HEAT Vice President, Player Personnel Chet Kammerer, was born in Indiana and raised in California. He graduated from Westmont College in 1990 and later went on to earn his master's degree at the University of Mississippi in 1993.

He and his wife, Nichole, reside in Michigan with their two children, Natasha and Chase.

THE RECORD-SETTING 27-GAME WIN STREAK

In a historic season filled with many highlights, one of the most enduring memories of the 2012-13 season for the Miami HEAT was a franchise-record 27-game winning streak from Feb. 3, 2013-Mar. 25, 2013. The streak began with a win at Toronto (100-85) on Feb. 3 and ended with a loss at Chicago (101-97) on Mar. 27. In addition to being the longest streak in franchise history it represents the second longest winning streak in NBA history.

Ray Allen's three-point field goal with 5.2 seconds left in regulation in Game 6 of the 2013 NBA Finals against San Antonio allowed the HEAT to overcome a five-point deficit in the final 20.2 seconds and force overtime. The HEAT went on to defeat the Spurs in overtime in Game 6 and then two nights later on June 20, Miami captured its third NBA championship.

January 11	The NBA upheld a protest filed by the HEAT after its 117-111 overtime loss to the Atlanta Hawks on December 19, 2007 at Philips Arena, which would result in the replay of the final 51.9 seconds of the game's overtime period with Miami trailing 114-111. The replay was scheduled to take place prior to the next contest between the two teams, at Atlanta on March 8. The HEAT protested the game because, with 51.9 seconds left in overtime, the Hawks' scoring table personnel incorrectly disqualified HEAT center Shaquille O'Neal, asserting a foul committed by O'Neal was his sixth of the game, when in fact it was his fifth. The error occurred because the Hawks' Official Scorer mistakenly attributed to O'Neal a foul with 3:24 remaining in the fourth quarter which was actually called on Udonis Haslem. NBA Commissioner David Stern ruled that the Hawks were grossly negligent in committing this scoring error, since they failed to follow league-mandated scoring procedures and failed to respond effectively when the members of the statisticians' crew noticed the mistake. Under the unprecedented set of circumstances, the Commissioner granted the HEAT's protest, and fined the Hawks $50,000 for their violation of league rules. The protest was the first granted by the NBA since December 14, 1982 when then-NBA Commissioner Larry O'Brien upheld a protest by the San Antonio Spurs in a double-overtime loss to the Los Angeles Lakers.
January 24	Dwyane Wade was named a starter for the Eastern Conference in the 2008 NBA All-Star game in New Orleans. Wade finished as the top vote-getter among Eastern Conference guards with 1,608,260 votes.
February 6	Acquired four-time All-Star forward Shawn Marion and guard Marcus Banks from the Phoenix Suns for Shaquille O'Neal.
February 6	Released Luke Jackson.
February 15	HEAT President and Head Coach Pat Riley was among the 15 Finalists named by the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame for induction in the Class of 2008.
February 17	Dwyane Wade made his fourth consecutive All-Star appearance and third consecutive start in the 2008 NBA All-Star Game at the New Orleans Arena and finished with 14 points, four rebounds, three assists, one block in 21:48 minutes.
February 27	Assigned Daequan Cook and Joel Anthony to their NBA Development League affiliate, the Iowa Energy.
March 3	Dorell Wright underwent surgery to repair a meniscal tear on the lateral joint line of his left knee which he injured the previous night at Sacramento. The surgery was performed by team physician Dr. Harlan Selesnick.
March 8	Recalled Daequan Cook and Joel Anthony from the Iowa Energy of the NBA D-League.
March 8	The HEAT and Hawks replayed the final 51.9 seconds of overtime from their December 19, 2007 game, in which the NBA upheld a HEAT protest. Neither team scored after the resumption of play and the Hawks won the protested game, 114-111. The Hawks then went on to win the regularly scheduled game at Philips Arena, 97-94, to complete the sweep.

NBA CARES

NBA Cares is the league's global social responsibility program that builds on the NBA's mission of addressing important social issues in the United States and around the world. Through this program, the NBA, its teams and players have donated more than $220 million to charity, completed more than 2.5 million hours of hands-on community service, and created more than 810 places where kids and families can live, learn, or play, in 25 countries and territories on five continents. NBA Cares works with internationally recognized youth-serving programs that support education, youth and family development, and health and wellness, including: KaBOOM!, Special Olympics, Boys and Girls Clubs of America, UNICEF, the Make-A-Wish Foundation, and GLSEN.

THE PARTNERSHIP

On June 10, 2013, the Miami HEAT announced that they had entered into a single affiliation partnership with the NBA Development League's Sioux Falls Skyforce. Beginning with the 2013-14 season the HEAT will be the only NBA team affiliated with the Skyforce and will have full control over their basketball operations. Miami, which had been paired with the Skyforce the previous four seasons, is one of 14 NBA teams to have a one-on-one partnership with an NBA D-League team. The HEAT is one of seven teams entered into a "hybrid" affiliation, meaning Miami will pay for and control the Skyforce's basketball operations, while existing local ownership maintains primary responsibility for the team's off-the-court business operations and community initiatives.

The HEAT join the Brooklyn Nets (Springfield Armor), Boston Celtics (Maine Red Claws), Houston Rockets (Rio Grande Valley Vipers), New York Knicks (Erie BayHawks), Portland Trail Blazers (Idaho Stampede) and Sacramento Kings (Reno Bighorns) as NBA teams with “hybrid” NBA D-League affiliations.

Six other NBA teams, including the Cleveland Cavaliers (Canton Charge), Golden State Warriors (Santa Cruz Warriors), Los Angeles Lakers (L.A. D-Fenders), Oklahoma City Thunder (Tulsa 66ers), Philadelphia 76ers (Delaware 87ers) and San Antonio Spurs (Austin Toros) fully own and operate their D-League teams while the Dallas Mavericks and Texas Legends are one-to-one affiliates.

The Sioux Falls Skyforce joined the NBA D-League in 2006 after serving stints with both the International Basketball League (2000-01) and the Continental Basketball Association (1989-00 & 2001-06). The Skyforce captured two CBA Championships (1996 & 2005) and three CBA division titles as well as making three postseason berths in the NBA D-League.

ADAM SIMON GENERAL MANAGER, BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

Adam Simon is entering his 19th season with the HEAT organization and his first in the role of Assistant General Manager/General Manager, Sioux Falls Skyforce. Simon will assist HEAT Sr. V.P., Basketball Operations/General Manager Andy Elisburg in all areas of the HEAT's basketball operations department as well as heading the basketball operations department for the Skyforce.

Simon has held a number of positions in the HEAT organization since arriving in 1995 as an intern in the video room under current HEAT coach Erik Spoelstra. Prior to his recent promotion he had spent the past three seasons as the HEAT's Director of Player Personnel. The St. Thomas University graduate has also served the HEAT as director of college/international scouting (2004-11), scout/director of college scouting (2003-04), scout (2002-03), scouting coordinator (2001-02), administrative assistant (1997-01) and basketball operations intern (1996-97) where he organized information for the NBA Draft which he has continued to do throughout his years with the HEAT.

SKYFORCE COACHING STAFF

PAT DELANY HEAD COACH

After 11 seasons as a member of the HEAT organization, where he served primarily as an advance scout and video coordinator, Pat Delany has earned his first head coaching assignment and becomes the 16th head coach in Sioux Falls franchise history.

Delany, who served as a full-time advance scout and helped the HEAT formulate game plans for the past six years, was an assistant coach for Miami's summer league entries in Orlando and Las Vegas this past July. Prior to becoming Miami's advance scout, Delany also served as the HEAT's video coordinator for four seasons (2003-07) following one season as a video intern.

Before joining the HEAT, Delany was a video department intern for the Boston Celtics from January to May of 2002. Throughout the summer months of 1998 through 2002, he served as a basketball camp counselor at the University of North Carolina, University of Notre Dame, Saint Anselm College and Christian Brothers Academy.

Delany is a graduate and former Division II basketball standout at Saint Anselm College where he graduated with a degree in business administration. He finished his basketball career as the school's all-time leader with 731 assists.

OCTAVIO De LA GRANA ASSISTANT COACH

Octavio De La Grana begins his eighth year as a member of the HEAT organization and his first in the role of assistant coach for the Skyforce. De La Grana has spent the past five seasons as Player Development Coach/Advance Scout for the HEAT where he was responsible for working with individual players in developing their game. He also served as an advance scout where he was responsible for creating scouting reports of upcoming opponents. De La Grana has also spent time assisting the Skyforce coaching staff the past two seasons when the HEAT have assigned players to their D-League affiliate.

Prior to joining the HEAT, De La Grana had a combined 18 years of head coaching experience at the high school level, including two stints at Florida Christian High School, where he led his team to the Class 2A State Championship in 1996, a season in which he garnered Coach of the Year honors. He also spent eight years as head basketball coach at Westminster Christian High School.

De La Grana is a graduate of Liberty University where he earned a degree in general studies. He attended Florida Christian High School and played basketball, where in 1979 he was chosen All-Dade County and later was inducted into the school's Athletic Hall of Fame. He and his wife, Angie, reside in Palmetto Bay with their six children, Derrick, Daniel, Chelsea, Jenny, Annie and Leah.

SEAN ROOKS ASSISTANT COACH

Sean Rooks returns for his second season as an assistant coach for the Skyforce after previously having served as an assistant coach for the final 16 games of the 2011-12 season. Rooks also garnered coaching experience as an assistant coach for the New Mexico Thunderbirds (2010-11) and Bakersfield Jam (2007-08) and briefly served as interim head coach of the Jam. The 12-year NBA veteran has also worked as a television analyst at Jam home games for two seasons and held the role of team mentor during the 2006-07 season.

Rooks holds NBA career averages of 6.2 points and 3.8 rebounds in 749 games with the Dallas Mavericks, Minnesota Timberwolves, Atlanta Hawks, Los Angeles Lakers, Los Angeles Clippers, New Orleans Hornets and Orlando Magic. He averaged career highs in points (13.5) and rebounds (7.4) as a rookie with the Mavericks in 1992-93. He was originally selected by Dallas in the second round (30th overall) of the 1992 NBA Draft following a successful collegiate career at the University of Arizona.

HEAT SPORTS MEDIA RELATIONS STAFF

Rob Wilson
DIRECTOR OF SPORTS MEDIA RELATIONS

Rob Wilson begins his 15th season with the HEAT and his 12th as Director of Sports Media Relations. He originally joined the HEAT as Assistant Director of Sports Media Relations in August of 1999 before being promoted to his current position in September of 2002. Wilson is responsible for the HEAT's day-to-day and game-night media operations and serves as the team's statistical historian. He also assists Vice President, Sports Media Relations Tim Donovan with daily player and coach interviews and travels with the team and serves as a media liaison on the road. Wilson has also served as the editor of the HEAT media guide for each of the past 15 seasons and served seven seasons as editor of the HEAT postseason guide.

A 1986 Villanova University graduate, Wilson has spent 31 years in the professional and collegiate athletics field. He began his career as a student manager at Villanova from 1982-86 and was a member of the staff when the Wildcats captured the 1985 NCAA Championship. After graduation, he served as public relations intern for one season at the Big East Conference in 1987-88. From 1988-93, he was the sports information director at Drexel University before joining the public relations staff of the Philadelphia Phillies in August of 1993, just two months before their World Series appearance. Wilson left the Phillies one year later to become the Men's Basketball SID at the University of Miami, a position he held for just over three years. During his tenure at UM, he also served as the Baseball SID and an assistant SID with the Hurricanes' nationally-ranked football team. He was hired by the Philadelphia 76ers in August of 1997 and spent two seasons as the Manager of Communications before joining the HEAT in August of 1999.

A native of Commack, NY, Wilson currently lives in Miami Beach.

Michael Lissack
ASSISTANT DIRECTOR OF SPORTS MEDIA RELATIONS

Michael Lissack begins his 10th full season with the HEAT as Assistant Director of Sports Media Relations after joining the club in April of 2004. His responsibilities include assisting the department with day-to-day operations, arranging player appearances, as well as designing and editing the team's preseason and postseason media guides. He also travels with the team and serves as a media liaison during road games.

Lissack received his bachelor of science degree from Boston University's College of Communications in 1999. Throughout his college years, he held season-long internships in the Boston Celtics media relations department, and summer internships with the Philadelphia 76ers. He also interned with the NHL's Boston Bruins and worked in BU's sports marketing department.

Upon graduation, Lissack spent one season in the Golden State Warriors creative services department before returning to Boston to join the Celtics as Media Relations/Creative Services Coordinator. In that position, he was responsible for the public image of the club, as he was actively involved in writing, editing and creating all team publications and print ads, including the annual media guide and being editor of the team's monthly magazine. He was also instrumental in the day-to-day media operations and developing the Shaw's/Reebok Pro Summer League into a premier yearly event. In February of 2003, he was promoted to Manager of Team Relations where he focused on the daily media operations of the team.

A native of Philadelphia, PA, Lissack resides in Miami Beach.

Nick Maiorana
SPORTS MEDIA RELATIONS MANAGER

Nick Maiorana enters his 12th season with the HEAT organization and his 10th as a member of the Sports Media Relations department. He is responsible for writing team press releases, game notes, credentialing media and assisting the department with numerous interview requests as well as some team traveling duties throughout the season. He also serves as assistant editor of the team's publications including the media guide, preseason guide and postseason guide. In addition to his daily responsibilities, he created and maintains the HEAT's photo archive with over 25 years of historical images.

During the summer of 2012, Maiorana was promoted to Sports Media Relations Manager after serving as an assistant for eight years. In 2009 he was named the Assistant Media Coordinator for the first and second round games of the NCAA Tournament held at the AmericanAirlines Arena in Miami as he was pivotal in meeting NCAA protocols while coordinating interviews and event staff duties.

The Miami native originally joined the HEAT as an intern for the WNBA's Miami SOL in 2002 before becoming intern of the HEAT's Basketball Operations department a year later. A graduate of Florida International University, Maiorana and his wife, Evelyn, reside in Miami.

HEAT MEDIA SERVICES

General

As the Miami HEAT enters its 26th NBA season, the team appreciates the coverage and support from the South Florida, national and international media. We look forward to working with you once again this year. In an effort to provide a quality work environment, the HEAT has established the following media information and guidelines.

AmericanAirlines Arena

The AmericanAirlines Arena mailing address is 601 Biscayne Boulevard, Miami, FL 33132. It is located just north of Port Boulevard and Bayside Marketplace and east of Biscayne Boulevard across from a Miami landmark, the Freedom Tower. Arriving via I-95 take 395 east to the Biscayne Boulevard exit, make a right at the second light and the arena will be on your left on 8th Street.

Credentials

HEAT media credentials, issued through the team's Sports Media Relations department, are required for admission to games in the AmericanAirlines Arena. Working media personnel, both regionally and nationally, are welcome at HEAT games. There are two types of HEAT media credentials available: media and photographer.

All credential requests must be approved by both the HEAT and the NBA in order to gain entrance. All credential requests (season and single-game) must come from the sports director or editor of your media outlet and be delivered on company letterhead to the attention of Rob Wilson and Nick Maiorana at the HEAT Sports Media Relations department. Those requests may be mailed, e-mailed to rwilson@heat.com and nmaiorana@heat.com or faxed to 786-777-1615. All requests from foreign and international media outlets must go directly to Michael Perrelli (mperrelli@nba.com/212-407-8304) of the NBA International Public Relations department and must be received at least three business days prior to the requested game. A credential request does not constitute a credential approval and it is the responsibility of the media outlet requesting a credential to call Nick Maiorana in the HEAT Sports Media Relations department at 786-777-1637 to confirm that the request was received and to verify whether it has been approved. A photo identification is necessary to pick up an approved credential. No credentials will be mailed.

HEAT season credentials will be issued only to media members who cover approximately 75 percent of the HEAT's home games with few exceptions. Additionally, head shots are required for all season passes for identification purposes. All other approved requests will be single-game credentials. A single-game credential allows the same access and privileges as a season pass. Single-game requests are due in the HEAT Sports Media Relations office no later than 5:00 p.m. the night before the requested game for games played Tuesday through Saturday and by 5:00 p.m. on Friday for games played on Sunday or Monday.

Credentials are to be worn in full view at all times, and once issued are the sole responsibility of the recipient and are non-transferable. In accordance with NBA rules, any person found with a credential other than their own will be escorted from the arena and the credential will be confiscated and revoked for the remainder of the season. Under NO CIRCUMSTANCES will that credential be returned.

AmericanAirlines Arena Media Entrance

Media covering a HEAT game in the AAA should enter the building through the Command Center, located at the southwest corner of the building (off Port Boulevard) next to the loading dock in the TV truck bay. This is where credentials can be picked up. The credential gate opens three and a half hours prior to the scheduled start of the game on weekdays and three hours on weekends.

The Robes Patton Memorial Pressroom

The media workroom, named in memory of late HEAT beat writer Robes Patton, is located near the northwest corner of the building. Upon entering the media gate, proceed to the left past the court entrance and the Robes Patton Memorial Pressroom will be on your left. Admission to the workroom is granted with a HEAT game credential. There is a working area where media can file stories and will be provided with game information. Team statistics, news releases, media guides, game notes and out-of-town scores are available in the Robes Patton Memorial Pressroom. Wireless internet access is available as well. The user name is aaamedia and the password is #aaamedia@601$.

Media Dining Room

Adjacent to the Robes Patton Memorial Pressroom on the northwest corner of the building is the Media Dining Room where food and drinks are provided to the media at a cost of $7.00. ALL media members (home, visiting or national) choosing to eat the pre-game meal will be required to pay the nominal fee with $5 from each meal being donated to the Robes Patton Memorial Fund. Receipts are available upon request. A hot meal will be served beginning three hours prior to the scheduled game time and will shut down 30 minutes after the listed start time of the game. Snacks will be available beginning at halftime and will continue to be available through the end of the game. A HEAT media credential is needed to gain access to the Media Dining Room.

AmericanAirlines Arena Locker Rooms

The HEAT locker room, as well as the visiting team's locker room, is located off the same hallway as the Robes Patton Memorial Pressroom. Making a left out of the Robes Patton Memorial Pressroom or Media Dining Room, the visiting team locker room is located on the right (behind the visiting team bench) on the North side of the building. Continue down the hallway, past the Media Interview Room, as it wraps around to the right, the HEAT locker room is located on your left (behind the corner by the HEAT bench). As per NBA policy, access to the locker room is strictly limited to pre- and post-game only to media with appropriate credentials. Those credentials are issued only to media working the game. No still cameras or cell phones are allowed in the HEAT or visitors locker rooms.

HEAT Interview Procedures

Access to HEAT players is pre- and post-game only in accordance with NBA directives. The HEAT locker room will open 75 minutes prior to the scheduled start time of each game for a period of 30 minutes and will close 45 minutes prior to the scheduled start time. The visiting team locker room will open between 75-90 minutes prior to tip-off for a period of 30-45 minutes and will also close 45 minutes before game time. Media members are prohibited from entering the Ron Culp Training Room, the Zo Zone Weight Room or the HEAT Player Lounge. The HEAT Sports Media Relations staff is available to assist with pre- and post-game interviews.

HEAT MEDIA SERVICES

HEAT Head Coach Erik Spoelstra will hold a pre-game press conference 105 minutes prior to the scheduled game time (5:45 p.m. for a 7:30 p.m. game) for each home game in the Media Interview Room and the visiting head coach will hold his availability session 90 minutes before the scheduled game time, usually outside the visiting locker room.

After the conclusion of games and the NBA mandated 15-minute "cool down" period, HEAT players are available for media interviews. These sessions are conducted inside the team locker room and valid HEAT credentials with locker room access are required for admittance. HEAT Head Coach Erik Spoelstra is available to the media in the Media Interview Room, located down the hall from the HEAT locker room.

AmericanAirlines Arena Media Seating

In AmericanAirlines Arena, press seating is available on the sidelines (both courtside and at the top of the lower bowl) and in the Upper Press Level. Members of the media, whether they have a season pass or a single-game pass, who would like a press seat must request one with the HEAT Sports Media Relations Department by 5:00 p.m. the day preceding the requested game (5:00 p.m. Friday for a weekend or Monday game). Press seating will be assigned for each game. The HEAT asks that media personnel consult seating charts located in the Robes Patton Memorial Pressroom, the Media Dining Room and in the seating areas to locate their seats. If your name does not appear on the seating chart and you have a credential, you are welcome to watch the game from the Upper Press Box, pressroom or dining room. Seating is based with priority going to media outlets that regularly cover the HEAT or their opponents on a daily basis, national outlets that cover the NBA on a daily basis and outlets which cover the HEAT on a weekly basis. You will be asked to move if you are found to be sitting in a seat that is not assigned to you or your outlet.

Radio And Television Broadcasts

Visiting team broadcasters coming to AmericanAirlines Arena should plan to request statisticians well in advance of a particular game. Please contact Rob Wilson (rwilson@heat.com, 786-777-4466) to arrange for a statistician. This enables the HEAT Sports Media Relations department time to provide the best available statisticians. The HEAT Sports Media Relations staff will be available to assist in arranging pre- and post-game interviews for broadcasts, as well. Media outlets needing a room to shoot interviews and any special requests should contact Rob Wilson as soon as possible, at least 24 hours prior to game time, because space is limited.

Phone Lines/Instruments

The HEAT provide a limited number of complimentary phones and phone lines for the media to use in the Robes Patton Memorial Pressroom and the auxiliary radio and photo workrooms (pipe and drape set-ups in the marshalling area). Media outlets wanting their own dedicated phone lines, either courtside, in the Robes Patton Memorial Pressroom or the auxiliary work areas, should contact Tony Coba (tcoba@heat.com, 786-777-1216) or Jose Martin (jamartin@heat.com, 786-777-1228) in the HEAT IT Department by 5:00 p.m. the night prior to the requested game (5:00 p.m. on Friday for a weekend or Monday night game).

Internet Access

Wireless internet access is provided free of charge to media members in the Robes Patton Memorial Pressroom. Media members who prefer a dedicated hard wire connection should contact Tony Coba (tcoba@heat.com, 786-777-1216) in the HEAT IT Department, a minimum of 48 hours prior to the scheduled start time. The charge for a hard wire connection for media and team-direct orders is $125 for a single-event or a monthly rental fee of $275. Wireless internet access is also available in the main bowl of the AmericanAirlines Arena and the Media Interview Room. The username is aaamedia and the password is #aaamedia@601$.

Photographers

Photographers, both print and electronic, wishing to cover a particular HEAT game should request credentials no later than 5:00 p.m. the night before the scheduled game (5:00 p.m. Friday for a weekend or Monday night game). Photographers work from assigned positions at each baseline. The sidecourt space in front of the scorer's table and on the opposite sideline is off limits, except for television camera crews approved by the NBA. Photographers must remain stationary and stay on the apron along each baseline, at least four feet off the court at all times. Photographers are also not allowed to shoot from the Upper Press Level or public walkways throughout the arena without approval from the HEAT Sports Media Relations department. Under no circumstances are flashbulbs permitted during games. In accordance with NBA rules, and to reduce the risk of injury to players, rubber lens shades are REQUIRED for all still photographers, broadcasters, news and entertainment video and film crews who are authorized to shoot NBA games.

Any requests for strobe equipment at HEAT games must come to Rob Wilson at the HEAT Sports Media Relations Department for approval. There is limited availability for strobes and if approved will cost the media outlet granted permission to shoot on the strobes a fee of $400 per game.

Parking

The HEAT has a limited amount of media parking available, both on a season and single-game basis. Media parking, which is sold on a first-come, first-served basis at a reduced rate of $10 per game, is located across the street at Bayside Marketplace. Media members in need of parking should contact the HEAT Sports Media Relations department with as much advance notice as possible to purchase a pass in the media parking lot.

Media Packets

Informational packets are prepared and delivered for media that stay in Miami-area hotels. Media should make the request 48 hours prior to the scheduled game if they would like to receive a packet. Media packets include game credentials, game notes, league statistical leaders, press releases and recent feature clips. Media members can also have the information e-mailed to them by making a request and providing an e-mail address.

Media Hotline

To get the latest practice and shootaround information, the media is encouraged to call the media hotline which is updated daily during the season. The HEAT Media Relations Hotline number is 786-777-4099.

Autographs

Seeking autographs or souvenir items from players or coaches is strictly prohibited and subject to forfeiture of credential. Media members are also prohibited from taking personal photos with players or coaches.

HEAT BROADCASTERS

Eric Reid
TELEVISION PLAY-BY-PLAY ANNOUNCER

Eric Reid is the lone remaining original member of the Miami HEAT broadcasting team and enters his 26th season of calling the action for the HEAT.

Reid has broadcast 1,795 regular season HEAT games during the franchise's first 25 seasons, having joined the organization just prior to the team's inaugural season in 1988-89. This season is his 37th consecutive year broadcasting basketball and his 23rd doing the play-by-play for the HEAT. Reid will describe the action for all preseason, regular season and postseason games carried on Sun Sports. He also serves as a host for Sun Sports' Emmy award-winning Inside the HEAT series.

Reid started with the HEAT as the color analyst, for three seasons on the team's simulcast, before switching to play-by-play duties in 1991, where he worked alongside Dave Wohl, a former HEAT assistant coach and general manager. For eight seasons (1992-00), Reid teamed with Hall-of-Fame coach, Dr. Jack Ramsay. The popular tandem worked over 500 HEAT telecasts together. Reid has also teamed with former HEAT player Ed Pinckney (2000-03) and former NBA Head Coach Mike Fratello (2002-04). For the 11th straight year, Reid will be joined by another HEAT original, Tony Fiorentino. Every spring, the duo hosts the Reid and Fiorentino Celebrity Golf Classic and Call of the Game Dinner to raise money for Lauren's Kids and the Dade School's Athletic Foundation. In October of 2011 Reid and Fiorentino were honored by the Greater Miami Chamber of Commerce with a Lifetime Contribution to Sports Award.

Reid is also an accomplished football broadcaster with 21 seasons of work on his resume, including the Big East Game of the Week telecast for two seasons on ESPN Regional, University of Miami games on both SportsChannel and Sunshine Network, Florida International University games on Sun Sports and WTVJ and Boston College contests on the New England Sports Network (NESN).

Prior to joining the HEAT, Reid spent 11 years as a college basketball broadcaster. For six years he was the radio voice of Providence College basketball, including the Friars' 1987 trip to the NCAA Final Four. Reid spent three years in Boston working for NESN and hosted both pre- and post-game shows for the Boston Red Sox. While at NESN he also did play-by-play for the Pawtucket Red Sox, the Red Sox AAA affiliate. He was also the host and writer for the syndicated weekly television show, "This Week in the Big East".

Reid, who in 2005 received the Outstanding Communicator award from St. Thomas University, began his broadcast career as the radio play-by-play voice of Cornell University football, basketball and lacrosse when he served as sports director at WHCU Radio in Ithaca, New York. He has also done play-by-play work with Brown University football, University of South Florida basketball and Big East basketball. In 1990 he called the NCAA Lacrosse National Championships for ESPN.

Reid is a 1979 graduate of Ithaca College and a native of Massapequa, NY. He resides in Boca Raton, with his wife Sonide. The couple has three children, Phyllisia, Andrew and Dariel.

Mike Inglis
RADIO PLAY-BY-PLAY ANNOUNCER

Veteran NBA radio announcer Mike Inglis enters his 16th season as the HEAT's English-language radio voice where he calls every preseason, regular season and postseason HEAT game.

In his 20th season broadcasting NBA games, Inglis' extensive experience includes two stints in the NBA prior to joining the HEAT. He began his NBA broadcasting career during the 1987-88 season calling Indiana Pacers games and then was hired as the first radio play-by-play announcer of the Toronto Raptors in 1995, where he broadcast simulcast games on TV and radio. He also called all the action of the HEAT's sister team, the Miami SOL in each of their three seasons.

Subsequent to his Pacers stint, Inglis remained with WIBC Radio in Indianapolis, serving as a sportscaster and morning show co-host and announcer on broadcasts of the NFL's Indianapolis Colts and the IHL's Indianapolis Ice on TV.

Inglis went to Canada in 1993, to become the first morning host on the country's inaugural sports talk radio station, Toronto's "The FAN" Sports Radio. Inglis also called games for the NFL American Bowl, Canadian Football League, American Hockey League TV Game of the Week, North American Soccer League and the Ontario Hockey League.

Inglis, his wife, Maryellen and daughter Megan, reside in South Florida.

HEAT BROADCASTERS

Tony Fiorentino

TV ANALYST

Tony Fiorentino, who has held a variety of positions within the HEAT organization since its inception in 1988, begins his 11th year as a regular member of the HEAT TV broadcast team. Fiorentino, who also serves as the HEAT's Summer Camp Director, will be teamed with Eric Reid as the color analyst on all HEAT Sun Sports telecasts. The duo currently forms the only broadcasting team in the NBA that has been employed by their team since its inception. In addition to teaming up to call all the HEAT action on Sun Sports, every spring the duo hosts the Reid and Fiorentino Celebrity Golf Classic and Call of the Game Dinner to raise money for Lauren's Kids and the Dade School's Athletic Foundation. In October of 2011, Reid and Fiorentino were honored by the Greater Miami Chamber of Commerce with a Lifetime Contribution to Sports Award.

Fiorentino, who has previous broadcasting experience as an analyst on University of Miami basketball games, a fill-in analyst for the HEAT (1991-95) and as a HEAT Insider on WAMI-TV, brings a wide array of coaching experience to his assignment. He arrived in Miami in 1988 and served as an assistant to Ron Rothstein for the HEAT's first three seasons. During that three-year period the HEAT increased its victory total each season. For three and a half seasons from 1991-95, Fiorentino served as a scouting coordinator for the HEAT before returning to the sidelines in the middle of the 1994-95 season as an assistant coach under interim head coach Alvin Gentry. Fiorentino remained on the HEAT bench for four seasons (1995-99) as an assistant coach on Pat Riley's staff, helping Miami capture three consecutive Atlantic Division crowns from 1996-99. In 2000 he was re-united with Rothstein and served as the lead assistant coach for the Miami SOL of the WNBA in their three years of existence, helping the team earn a playoff berth in just its second season.

Prior to coming to Miami, Fiorentino served two years as an assistant coach for the men's basketball team at Iona College in New Rochelle, NY. He joined the Iona staff after eight successful seasons as head coach of the boy's basketball team at nationally renowned Mt. Vernon High School, where he led the school to New York Public School State Championships in 1979 and 1981 and compiled a 182-21 record. His teams won seven league titles and he earned Coach of the Year honors three times. When he resigned to become an assistant at Iona, Fiorentino had the highest winning percentage (.897) among all active high school basketball coaches in New York State.

After graduating from Dowling (NY) College in 1971, Fiorentino earned a master's degree in counseling from the University of Bridgeport in 1975. He was elected into the Westchester (NY) Sports Hall of Fame in 2011. Born in Mt. Vernon, NY, Fiorentino currently resides in Key Biscayne.

Jason Jackson

TV HOST & COURTSIDE REPORTER

This marks Jason Jackson's 10th season as television host and courtside reporter for Miami HEAT telecasts on Sun Sports. He also serves as a host for Sun Sports' Emmy award-winning Inside the HEAT series.

Jackson, an eight-time Emmy winner, is a versatile broadcasting veteran of over 23 years. For three seasons (2004-2007), on both 790 the Ticket and 560 WQAM, Jackson hosted the post-game coverage for Miami Dolphins' radio broadcasts. Throughout most of his tenure with the HEAT, Jackson hosted a local radio show, The Jax Show. He also received a writing credit for the three docudramas chronicling the last three HEAT seasons.

From 1995-2002, Jackson was an anchor/reporter at ESPN. He anchored NBA 2Night, NBA Matchup and co-hosted ESPN Radio's Gameday. Jackson served as host for ESPN's coverage of the NBA All-Star Game and the NBA Finals from 1997-2002. He was also a regular contributor to SportsCenter, ESPNews and ESPN.com.

Before joining ESPN, Jackson worked at WSVN-TV in Miami as a sports reporter/anchor from 1994-95. Prior to that, he was news director, anchor and a talk show host at WFAL-AM and WBGU-FM in Bowling Green, OH from 1990-94.

Jackson is a 1994 graduate of Bowling Green State University. He was born in Delaware, OH, grew up in Cleveland, OH and later, Cincinnati, OH. Jackson and his wife Shirelle have two boys, Justin and Jordan. They reside in Coconut Grove.

John Crotty
TV STUDIO ANALYST & RADIO ANALYST

Former HEAT point guard John Crotty enters his ninth full season as the analyst on the HEAT Radio Network. The NBA veteran will once again team with Mike Inglis to analyze preseason, regular season and postseason action. In addition to his radio duties, Crotty joins the television studio for all HEAT road games on Sun Sports to anchor the pre-game, halftime and post-game shows.

Crotty joined the HEAT broadcast team during the 2004-05 season, beginning with the HEAT's January 1st contest against the Charlotte Bobcats, and has also been part of the Sun Sports postseason television coverage in each of Miami's last eight playoff appearances, conducting interviews and providing keen analysis.

During his 11-year NBA career, Crotty played for seven different teams before retiring after the 2002-03 season. In addition to his stint with the HEAT, Crotty played for Utah, Cleveland, Portland, Seattle, Detroit and Denver. He appeared in 477 regular season games and averaged 4.0 points, 2.1 assists and 12.1 minutes while shooting 43.1 percent from the floor, 38.4 percent from three-point range and 83.7 percent from the foul line. During his lone season with the HEAT in 1996-97, he averaged 4.8 points, 2.1 assists and 13.7 minutes while shooting 51.3 percent from the floor, 40.8 percent from three-point range and 84.4 percent from the foul line in 48 games. He helped the HEAT earn its first trip to the Eastern Conference Finals appearing in 15 postseason contests. For his career he saw action in 36 postseason contests and averaged 2.0 points and 1.0 assists in 7.5 minutes.

In addition to his broadcast duties, Crotty sells commercial real estate for Colliers International South Florida, where he is a senior vice president and partner in investment sales. He continues to be involved in the community as a member of the Orange Bowl Committee and through his youth basketball camp in Coral Gables. He graduated from the University of Virginia in 1991 with a degree in history, and he and his wife, Kara, are the parents to two daughters, Cassie and Connor. They currently reside in Coral Gables.

Will Manso
TV STUDIO HOST

The 2013-14 season marks Will Manso's first as a member of the Miami HEAT broadcast team. He joins the HEAT TV studio for road games on Sun Sports as the pre-game, halftime and post-game host and will also work a number of home games in a reporter capacity, doing interviews with assistant coaches and postgame hits outside the opposing locker room. In addition to his HEAT duties, Manso is the Sports Director at WPLG (ABC) in Miami and also serves as a host for primetime specials that air on WPLG.

Manso began his on-air career in 1996 as a sportscaster at UMTV, the student produced news station for the University of Miami. He helped develop a half-hour sports show called "Sportsdesk" and also anchored and reported for the school's newscast, Newsvision.

The New Jersey native left Miami for his first professional job in 1997 as the Weekend Sports Anchor/Reporter at KPAX-TV in Missoula, Montana. He later worked for the now defunct WOTV (ABC) in Battle Creek, Michigan in 1998, before getting a job at WPLG in March 1999. Manso has served as a Weekend Sports Anchor/Reporter, News Anchor/Reporter and Specials Host at WPLG. He was promoted to the position of Sports Director at WPLG in 2007.

Manso spends most of his free time with his daughter, Katelyn, and his wife, Elizabeth. A proud Cuban-American, he is involved in a number of community events and often speaks at local schools. He also emcees numerous events throughout the year and is a member of the National Association of Hispanic Journalists.

Jonathan Zaslow

PRE-GAME, HALFTIME AND POST-GAME RADIO HOST

The 2013-14 season marks Jonathan Zaslow's fourth as the pre-game, halftime and post-game radio host for HEAT broadcasts. With nine years of radio broadcasting experience, "Zaz" began his career as a reporter in 2004 as an original employee of 790 the Ticket. He then became producer of The Boog Sciambi Show for three years while frequently providing on-air commentary. In 2008, he became host of The Zaslow Show which received a permanent evening timeslot in 2009. During the NHL season, he hosted Panthers Unrestricted Weekend, partnering with Florida Panther play-by-play announcer Randy Moller. In addition to his HEAT duties, he co-hosts the Hochman & Zaslow Show weekday mornings on 104.3 FM and AM 790 The Ticket.

Zaslow, a Miami native, graduated from the University of Florida in 2004 with a degree in telecommunications. He resides in Hollywood with his wife, Tamara, and sons, Corey and Jordan.

Tommy Tighe

HEAT RADIO NETWORK HOST

With 34 years of radio broadcasting experience, veteran Tommy Tighe enters his fifth season with the HEAT Radio Network producing and co-hosting the pre-game, halftime and post-game shows. In addition to his game day duties, Tighe hosts the HEAT Weekly Show Saturday mornings which airs on multiple stations throughout the weekend on the HEAT Radio Network.

Between 1998-2009, Tighe was a studio host for Westwood One's college football coverage including the Cotton, Sun, Alamo, Gator and Holiday Bowls as well as their college basketball schedule which included three Final Fours and 12 NCAA Men's Basketball Championships. In addition to his collegiate duties, Tighe covered the NFL for Westwood One where he hosted NFL Preview with Boomer Esiason and John Madden, NFL Fantasy and NFL.com's Insider Show including the NFL Playoffs, AFC and NFC Championship Games and nine Super Bowls. Tighe also anchored coverage of the Masters, US Open, PGA Championship and British Open from 2006-09 before joining Sirius/XM's radio coverage of the FedEx Cup Playoffs in late 2009.

Prior to his time with Westwood One, Tighe served as a studio anchor for 11 years (1987-98) with CBS Sports Radio where he produced and hosted many events including the 1992, 1994 and 1998 Winter Olympics. He also anchored the US Open for three years (1994-97) while providing sports commentary on a number of shows with Brent Musburger, Greg Gumbel, Jim Nantz and Pat O'Brien to name a few.

Tighe got his start in radio broadcasting in 1980 with SportsPhone before being hired by WCBS-AM in New York serving as a correspondent for seven years (1980-87) covering all New York area teams.

A 1977 Penn State University graduate with a degree in speech communications, Tighe was born in New York before moving to New Jersey where he maintained a residence for 35 years. He currently resides in Coral Springs.

HEAT BROADCASTERS

José Pañeda
SPANISH RADIO BROADCASTER

José Pañeda, the Spanish Voice ("La Voz") of the Miami HEAT, enters his 25th year as the team's Spanish language radio play-by-play announcer, broadcasting all Miami HEAT regular season and postseason games this season. An original HEAT employee, Pañeda is in his 26th year with the team.

In 1998, Pañeda made HEAT history as he broadcasted the first ever Miami HEAT game on Spanish language television. In 2002, Pañeda once again made history by becoming the first NBA broadcaster ever to announce 1,000 consecutive regular season games in Spanish. Pañeda has announced the most HEAT games in its history which include 1,920 consecutive regular season games and all 185 playoff games including the 2006, 2012, and 2013 NBA Championships.

In addition to his HEAT duties, Pañeda has been the Spanish language radio voice at the NBA Finals 10 times, which have been broadcast in the US and internationally through several networks including the NBA on ESPN Spanish Radio Network. Pañeda is also a veteran of 11 Spanish broadcasts of the NBA All-Star game.

In 1998, Pañeda was named by Sports Illustrated as one of the five fastest speaking announcers in the NBA. In June 2011, Pañeda was featured for his broadcasts on the front page of the Wall Street Journal.

For two consecutive summers, Pañeda was the host and play-by-play announcer for WNBA games broadcast on Gems Television to 21 countries in Latin America. In the summer of 1999, Pañeda was the play-by-play voice of basketball on Univision's network coverage of the Pan American Games. Pañeda has also broadcast NBA games to TV viewers in most of Latin America through TNT Latino and provided play-by-play commentary for Fox Sports America. In 1992, Pañeda was the television color commentator at the Olympic qualifying Tournament of the Americas on Univision. He has also worked on English language radio and television in Miami.

In his additional role as Senior Advisor, Hispanic Broadcasting & Marketing, Pañeda is responsible for serving as the HEAT's spokesperson in the Hispanic community and advising the HEAT Group with their efforts. This includes creating and implementing different plans to assist the Marketing, Public Relations, Social Media, and Community Affairs departments. This is in addition to overseeing the Spanish language broadcasts.

Born and raised in Miami, Pañeda is a graduate of Belen Jesuit Prep High School and Florida International University ('86). In 2008, Pañeda, a high school baseball and soccer letterman, was inducted into the Belen Jesuit High School Sports Hall of Fame with the first ever Lifetime Achievement award for his broadcast achievements. Pañeda and his wife, Ana, are the parents of twin boys, José Carlos and Alexander Eduardo (18). The Pañeda's reside in Miami and enjoy the summers fishing in the Florida Keys.

Joe Pujala
SPANISH RADIO ANALYST/HOST

Joe Pujala enters his 15th year overall and 13th consecutive as a member of the Miami HEAT's Spanish broadcast team. In his role, he provides game analysis and serves as the pre-game, halftime and post-game host on all Spanish language broadcasts. He has worked over 1,400 games and has interviewed coaches, players, athletes, celebrities and dignitaries for his pre-game, halftime and post-game shows. He contributes regularly as an NBA analyst for national and international Spanish language networks as well as local South Florida radio stations.

Pujala also hosts a morning drive sports talk show on 1210 AM ESPN Deportes Miami. Additionally, he handles play-by-play on select Miami Marlins baseball broadcasts on Fox Sports Florida and was the Spanish voice of the University of Miami Hurricanes football for seven years.

During the last 29 years, his career has dealt mainly in the broadcast and advertising fields including managing the largest Hispanic radio group in South Florida. He has spent the last 15 years working in the advertising agency business, and is President of ADHOUSE Advertising, an award-winning full-service general and Hispanic-market advertising agency.

Pujala, who was born in Cuba and raised in Miami, is a graduate of Barry University.

MIAMI HEAT COMMUNITY AFFAIRS

As an extension of the NBA Cares initiative – the Miami HEAT is committed to positively dedicating time and support for the improvement of all South Florida residents, especially children and women at risk. It is our belief that as our fans and youth give to us, it is equally important that we give back to them.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS

HEAT Academy – Presented by Carnival Cruise Lines

Recognizing the need for children to receive extra exposure to academics, particularly in reading, writing, math and science, the Miami HEAT for a 15th year has embraced the importance of providing children with the opportunity to have a free, quality after-school program in South Florida. Through the generous financial support of presenting sponsor Carnival Cruise Lines and additional sponsors Florida Blue and C1 Bank, through a collaborative partnership with Miami-Dade County Public Schools, the Miami HEAT has teamed up to facilitate HEAT Academy at three local inner city schools: Paul Laurence Dunbar K-8 Center, Jesse J. McCrary Jr. Elementary and Riverside Elementary. At HEAT Academy, students work on academics, get assistance with homework, have a safe place to be when their parents are not available, and most importantly, learn from positive role models who inspire kids to excel. HEAT players and employees frequently visit the classrooms and introduce their own lesson plans to the students. HEAT Academy operates the majority of the school year, Monday – Friday.

Miami HEAT Learn & Play Center presented by Florida Blue

The Miami HEAT along with Florida Blue has teamed up to create Learn & Play Centers throughout South Florida. As part of the program, the HEAT renovates an existing room into a HEAT-themed area with new paint, computers, furniture, books, audio/video equipment, games for children and other essentials necessary to transform the area into a place where children can retreat to and spend some time reading, working on their homework or playing in a safe and secure environment. To date, the HEAT has established Learn & Play Centers at 11 sites: Each of our three HEAT Academy schools – Paul Laurence Dunbar K-8 Center, Jesse J. McCrary Jr. Elementary, and Riverside Elementary – as well as Chapman Partnership, Bucky Dent Gymnasium, His House Children's Home, Miami Rescue Mission, Grapeland Park, Shake-A-Leg Miami, Miami Springs Community Center and most recently at the Joe Celestin Center.

HEAT Scholarships

In its 18th year, the Miami HEAT, in conjunction with the Miami HEAT Charitable Fund, offers scholarship funds to high school seniors each year. Scholarship applications are available in December and recipients are awarded in May. Scholarships are awarded based on academic performance, outstanding community service and financial need. Scholarships include the following: Two (2) HEAT Academic Scholarships, one (1) Alec Kessler Student-Athlete Scholarship, and one (1) Dr. Jack Ramsay Scholarship. Close to $200,000 in scholarship funds have been awarded since the inception of this program.

HEAT Black History Month Challenge presented by Pepsi

The Black History Month Challenge is a game show-style competition held at the AmericanAirlines Arena during the month of February where two teams of students from two local schools test their knowledge of Black history for a chance to win a HEAT prize pack, which includes HEAT tickets and a $4,000 grant to the winning school. This will be the fifth year of the event hosted by HEAT/Sun Sports courtside reporter Jason Jackson and also incorporating two HEAT players as captains on each of the opposing teams.

ATHLETICS

HEAT Youth Basketball presented by Gatorade

In an effort to help create champions on the court as well as off it, the Miami HEAT and Gatorade have teamed up to offer South Florida youth recreational basketball leagues a chance to feel the HEAT Experience. As a member of the program, participants are eligible to receive an exclusive HEAT Youth Basketball package and special HEAT and Gatorade offers. Select member leagues are also afforded the opportunity to gain excellent on and off-court basketball training and instruction on improving their basketball and teamwork skills from HEAT players and coaches at special basketball clinics.

HEAT Wheels - Wheelchair Basketball

In conjunction with the Miami-Dade Parks' Leisure Access Services, the Miami HEAT offers support for the Miami HEAT Wheels, an adult wheelchair basketball team, and the HEAT Sparks, the junior wheelchair team, wherein players teach others how those with disabilities lead active and productive lives. The HEAT Wheels practice throughout the year and compete in local and regional matches while attempting to qualify for the National Wheelchair Basketball Tournament in February.

OUTREACH

HEAT Back to School presented by Del Monte Fresh, the Florida Department of Agriculture and Nesquick

HEAT Players, Xtreme Team, Burnie and HEAT Dancers welcome back to school the students and teachers of a local elementary school to help kickoff the school year. With a little encouragement from the HEAT players as they distribute school supplies to the children and the added excitement of the HEAT Experience, the event serves to alleviate any first day jitters the students might be feeling.

Mario Chalmers spends time reading with young HEAT fans at one of the HEAT Learn & Play Centers.

MIAMI HEAT COMMUNITY AFFAIRS

Re-HEAT

In its sixth year of existence the Re-HEAT program, with the support of Levy Restaurants and the AmericanAirlines Arena, provides unserved food from all HEAT home games to local homeless shelters in the Miami area, namely the Miami Rescue Mission and Chapman Partnership.

HEAT Hispanic Heritage Month Celebration presented by Pepsi, Florida Blue and Sun Sports

With the largest Hispanic season ticket fan base in the NBA, the Miami HEAT continues to engage the Hispanic community with an annual HEAT Hispanic Heritage Month Event during the month of October. In its eighth year, the event consists of a fun-filled day of festivities for the general public that includes interaction with HEAT Players, HEAT Dancers, the Xtreme Team and Burnie the mascot.

HEAT Learn to Swim presented by Florida Blue and Sun Sports

The Miami HEAT has teamed up with Florida Blue, Sun Sports and the American Red Cross in an effort to stress the importance of water safety to children of all ages throughout South Florida. The HEAT "Learn to Swim" initiative emphasizes the need for parents and children to learn how to swim and be cautious in the water through numerous community appearances by HEAT players, Burnie, Xtreme Team and HEAT Dancers. Our HEAT April Pool's Day event officially serves to kickoff the swim season in South Florida. The event consists of a press conference and an interactive portion where HEAT players as well as HEAT Dancers join young swimmers in the pool for swim lessons under the direction and supervision of American Red Cross certified lifeguards. The HEAT also provides $10 off swim lesson coupons redeemable at select American Red Cross pool locations.

HEAT Season of Giving

The Miami HEAT players, their families and front office HEAT staff ring in the holiday season each year with numerous festive celebrations and generous outreach efforts to help uplift the spirits of those in need. Programs include turkey giveaways during Thanksgiving, toys for children as part of our Holiday Hospital Visits, holiday parties and toy drives for local charities. During the holiday season, HEAT players work together to bring smiles and holiday cheer to those less fortunate, strengthening the connection between the beneficiaries during this most important time of year.

HEAT Beach Sweep presented by PwC

In its fifth year the HEAT Beach Sweep presented by PwC serves as the centerpiece for the HEAT during NBA Green Week, which leverages the combined weight of the league, teams, players and partners to generate awareness and raise funds in support of environmental protection. The event is a clean-up project and pro-conservation campaign aimed at preserving Miami's beaches. HEAT players, talent and staff all pitch in to clean up a beach as well as plant sea oats in sand dunes to help prevent beach erosion and establish new ecosystems.

Miami HEAT Visits, Item & Memorabilia Requests and Ticket Donations

The Miami HEAT supports numerous organizations and events throughout the South Florida community. Through special visits, donations of sports memorabilia, game tickets, in-kind items and player/mascot/dancer appearances, as well as staff involvement and volunteerism, the Miami HEAT reaches out to the community on a year-round basis.

All requests for donated items and player appearances must be submitted in writing on organization letterhead at least six (6) weeks prior to an event to the address listed below. Please include the date, time and location of the event and mail to:

Miami HEAT
Community Affairs Department/Requests
601 Biscayne Boulevard
Miami, FL 33132

MIAMI HEAT COMMUNITY AFFAIRS

MIAMI HEAT CHARITABLE FUND

Established in 1997, the Miami HEAT Charitable Fund supports programs for the betterment of at-risk families in South Florida. Beneficiaries include SafeSpace, a domestic violence shelter for women and children, the Jackson Memorial Foundation's Guardian Angels which now benefits Jackson's Center for Maternity and Babies at Holtz Children's Hospital, and the Miami Coalition for a Safe and Drug-Free Community.

The Miami HEAT Charitable Fund also provides educational scholarships for high school seniors and partners with inner-city elementary schools to fund the HEAT Academy, which provides after-school tutoring and mentoring programs. Through these initiatives, the Miami HEAT Charitable Fund continues to inspire the youth of South Florida to envision their dreams and achieve their goals.

Miami HEAT Home Court for Kids Wing at Holtz Children's Hospital

Holtz Children's Hospital at Jackson Memorial recently celebrated the dedication of its new state-of-the-art pediatric intensive care unit made possible by a joint donation of $2.5 million by Carnival Cruise Lines and the Miami HEAT Charitable Fund. The redesigned facility currently lets parents play a more active role in their child's treatment and recovery. This ongoing partnership allows for more critically ill children to be treated in South Florida through cutting-edge medical care.

Home Strong

Established in 2006, Home Strong is an ongoing program that salutes and honors the courageous men and women in uniform for their dedication to the United States Armed Forces. Home Strong's mission is to give aid, support and recognition to any person who has been in harms way in the military service.

Beneficiaries include:

*HEAT Home Strong Recognition Program: Hosts, honors and supports military personnel and their families who have served in combat and reside in the South Florida area.

*Fisher House Foundation: Builds and maintains a "home away from home" at no charge for military families of patients receiving medical care at nearby VA medical centers.

*America's Moms for Soldiers: A program sending monthly "care packages" to our soldiers in Forward Operating Bases (F.O.Bs) in Iraq and Afghanistan.

Miami HEAT Family Festival

The Miami HEAT Family Festival, presented by Carnival Cruise Lines is a themed, interactive, carnival-like celebration in which HEAT players, coaches, celebrities and 250 families come together for a day of family and fun in an effort to raise vital dollars for local charities. Top restaurants from South Florida create a memorable dining "Food Court" extravaganza as well. In anticipation of this marquee event, the Foundation will serve as host to the annual Celebrity/Team Dinner & Concert, presented by Hublot.

HEAT Scramble Golf Classic

The Annual HEAT Scramble Golf Classic has offered golfers an opportunity to tackle some of the most prominent golf courses around town, such as Don Shula's in Miami Lakes, the Blue Monster at the Doral Golf Resort and Spa and most recently, the Miccosukee Golf & Country Club. All net proceeds benefit the Miami HEAT Charitable Fund. This season's event is expected to feature appearances by several current HEAT players and plans to be the largest golf event ever hosted by the Fund.

Ray Allen and Chris Bosh participate in the HEAT's annual Thanksgiving in Overtown event.

Annual Toy/Food Drive

The spirit of giving continues year round for the Miami HEAT through the Annual Toy/Food Drive. Historically, the HEAT and its fans have brought in canned food and toys for Food Drives to benefit Curley's House of Style, a food pantry in Liberty City that serves over 1,000 people each day. The toys are distributed to the HEAT's local beneficiaries to support at-risk youth.

Miami HEAT Player Ticket Program

One of the most generous and trendsetting programs in the NBA, the Miami HEAT's Player Ticket Program will spend the entire 2013-14 regular season reaching out to children who typically would only dream of watching a HEAT game live. HEAT players joined forces to donate tickets for every single home game to local charitable organizations and over the course of the season, more than 5,000 children, many for the first time, will have the opportunity to enjoy a HEAT game, courtesy of their favorite HEAT players and role models. Players also graciously provide several private 'Meet & Greet" opportunities for the groups prior to each HEAT home game, where the players talk to children, signs autographs and take pictures.

HEAT Family Charity Group

The Miami HEAT Family Charity Group, established in conjunction with the Miami HEAT Charitable Fund, consists of members including wives of active HEAT coaches, players, select senior executive management as well as player mothers and family. The group works closely together with the Miami HEAT Charitable Fund to assist the South Florida community through activities including the organization of various fundraising efforts, the Annual SafeSpace Holiday Outreach initiative, the Domestic Violence Prevention Walk and other numerous hours of volunteer contributions.

AMERICANAIRLINES ARENA INFORMATION

Since its spectacular grand opening on December 31, 1999, the AmericanAirlines Arena – South Florida's Waterfront Showplace and proud home to the 2006, 2012 and 2013 NBA Champion Miami HEAT – has become one of the nation's premier facilities in sports and entertainment and a center of activity in South Florida.

Built with state-of-the-art sound and lighting and HD and electronic media signage inside and out, the impressive 19,600-seat AmericanAirlines Arena ranks among the nation's top 10 venues annually for total ticket sales and among the top 5 for Latin entertainment. The arena has hosted diverse musical superstars such as Beyonce, Madonna, Coldplay, Marc Anthony, Phish, Bruno Mars, Taylor Swift, Lady Gaga and Jay-Z just to name a few.

The AmericanAirlines Arena has also hosted several live TV events, including the MTV Music Awards and the prestigious Latin Grammy Awards, each placing Miami in the international spotlight. In addition, Univision Network has broadcasted its legendary Premio Lo Nuestro Awards show from the Arena for five of the last six years.

More intimate concerts can be accommodated in the Arena's modern and versatile Waterfront Theatre, providing multiple options for events hosting 3,000 to 5,800 guests. It comes complete with a ceiling to floor acoustic curtain, proscenium stage, theatrical lighting, carpeted isles and beautiful chandeliers.

In addition to being a great concert venue, the Arena has proven itself as South Florida's number one sports and entertainment destination. Not just the home of the Miami HEAT, the Arena has has been the venue of choice for family shows like the Harlem Globetrotters, Disney On Ice, Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, The Wiggles, Sesame Street, Yo Gabba Gabba, WWE and more.

The Arena has hosted a variety of private events, galas, film/commercial shoots and meetings, large and small in a myriad of unique space. Whether utilizing the entire Arena or specialty spaces, including the ultra-exclusive Dewar's Clubhouse and the East Plaza with its stunning view of Biscayne Bay, every event has the Arena's VIP touch.

AmericanAirlines Arena is launching the 2013-14 season with new Flagship Lounges, refreshed concessions and a celebrity chef program sure to deliver the most luxurious and exciting experience in sports and entertainment dining for HEAT fans this season. The arena will bring in renowned chefs, celebrity mixologists and master sommeliers from Miami to deliver a season of dynamic, memorable dining experiences that match the excitement, inspiration and thrill of what happens on the court and the stage at AmericanAirlines Arena.

Hyde Lounge is the Arena's newest hotspot and trendiest private nightclub in Miami. The 1,400 sq. ft. intimate club is located on the event level of AmericanAirlines Arena. The club boasts posh décor, exclusive private table's featuring bottle service, the freshest sushi and the hottest trends in Mixology. HEAT fans can enjoy the ultimate nightlife experience at Hyde without leaving the Arena. The club features a dining and lounge atmosphere through the first three quarters of the game and then transitions to a chic nightclub from the fourth quarter until closing. The club comes alive with DJ entertainment, state-of-the-art sound & lighting features. Hyde can also be booked for private parties for groups up to 230 guests on non-game/event days.

The MiamiMediaMesh is the most eye-catching LED motion graphic display in South Florida, showcasing all the exciting events coming to the Arena. Located in the heart of downtown Miami and affixed to the front of the Arena, this revolutionary, state-of-the-art, first-of-its-kind, energy-efficient digital media façade has transformed downtown Miami into Times Square South. Blending seamlessly with the Arena architecture, the MiamiMediaMesh covers 3,400 square feet of the Arena's west face, making it the largest digital LED display in the Southeast region of the United States.

Always looking to be more energy efficient and environmentally friendly, on April 7, 2009, AmericanAirlines Arena was awarded LEED certification in the category of Existing Buildings: Operations & Maintenance by the U.S. Green Building Council (USGBC). LEED is the USGBC's leading rating system for designing and constructing the world's greenest, most energy-efficient, and high performing buildings. The AmericanAirlines Arena became the first existing building in the country to have received LEED certification and the only one in Florida to receive this prestigious designation by the USGBC.

The AmericanAirlines Arena is the cornerstone of a rapidly developing downtown area. With more than 15,000 new residents moving in over the next three years and 40,000 in the next decade, the Arena is positioned for success. With its wealth of amenities, incredible location, spectacular surroundings and impressive array of events, the AmericanAirlines Arena is the number one choice when looking for entertainment and fun in South Florida.
